Patterns

August 2019 Volume XLVII, Number 2

As a Friend of WILL, you have entrusted us with your money on the guarantee that we will provide you with high-quality public media. This month, Patterns showcases two of the many ways in which we have done just that.

On page 18, you can read about our massive studio upgrade to high-definition digital equipment. With all the bells and whistles needed for the 21st century, the new devices were a much-needed improvement. You can see the results of this upgrade refresh each week on Mid-American Gardener and future local content creation.

Page 19 highlights our Public Radio News Directors Incorporated awards in journalism. To win a PRNDI is quite prestigious; to win two is simply amazing.

All this outstanding work is done because of you: your commitment to excellent local public media. In the last 45 years, you have yet to renege on that promise, and we continue to reach your high expectations. Thank you for your dedication.

"A once-in-a-century cultural phenomena"

In August 1969, half a million young people from all walks of life journeyed from every corner of the country to a dairy farm in upstate New York for a concert unprecedented in scope and influence. Woodstock examines the tumultuous decade that led to those three historic days—years that saw the nation deeply divided by Vietnam and racial, generational, and sexual politics—through the voices of those who were present for the event that would become the defining moment of the counterculture revolution. In conjunction with the 50th anniversary, Woodstock: Three Days That Defined a Generation, airs at 8 pm Tuesday, August 6, and 7 pm Tuesday, August 20.

"For three days in August, 1969, the values of 'peace and love,' loudly championed by the counterculture movement, were actually put to the test in the miserable conditions at Woodstock," said director Barak

Goodman. "The more than 400,000 people who attended the festival proved that they were more than just words. For a surprising number of people, that brief encounter with sacrifice, cooperation, and generosity changed their lives. I think Woodstock continues to inspire because the grace demonstrated there was real and enduring."

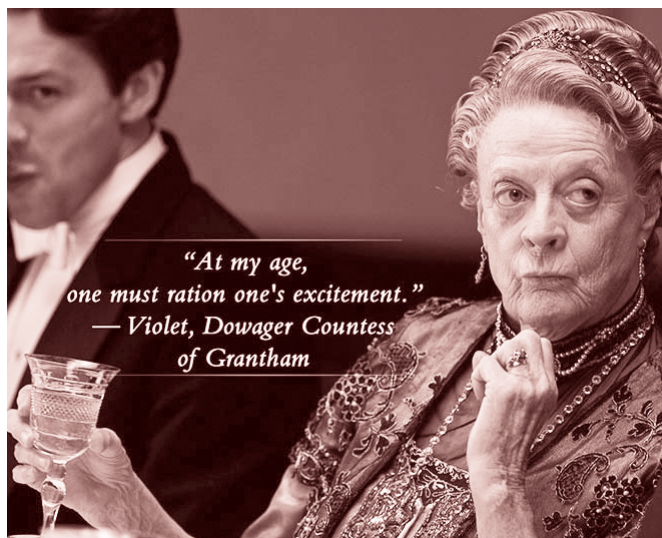

Interviewees include festival producers and staff including Donald Goldmacher, Carol Green, Michael Lang, John Morris, John Roberts and Joel Rosenman; activist Wavy Gravy; festival attendees, and others.

On the road back to Downton Abbey

In anticipation of the September 2019 premiere of the Downton Abbey feature film, Downton Abbey Live! is a nostalgic celebration of all aspects of the most successful British drama ever – the stellar cast, superb writing, spectacular locations and dazzling costumes. Propelled by ticklish teases from the upcoming movie and featuring exclusive interviews with the cast and creators, this new PBS live special will remind viewers of the many reasons they adored the series. Downton Abbey Live! will be broadcast from New York City in front of a studio audience. Planned participants include: Allen Leech (Tom Branson), Julian Fellowes (Creator & Writer), Laura Carmichael (Lady Edith), Jim Carter (Mr. Carson), Lesley Nicol (Mrs. Patmore), Liz Trubridge and Gareth Neame (Executive Producers) and surprise guests. Driven by lively conversation between host and guests, Downton Abbey Live! will reveal never-before-heard stories from the PBS series plus exclusive clips of the upcoming movie, and a warm look back at the most successful period drama in history. In addition, PBS viewers from around the country will have an opportunity to have their questions about the Downton Abbey series and upcoming movie answered by the cast and creators live—who knows what secrets will be revealed? Tune in to the special at 8 pm Sunday, August 18, and 8 pm Saturday, August 24.

40 looks good on you!

This Old House—40th Anniversary Special

at 7:30 pm Thursday, August 22 includes interviews with hosts and cast members, vintage clips, and favorite moments from the series that inspired an entire genre of television programming. The broadcast special will revisit some favorite renovations from the past 40 years and feature new interviews with current and alumni hosts Kevin O'Connor, Steve Thomas, and Bob Vila discussing the evolution of the venerable "how-to" series. The celebration also features past homeowners who share behind-the-scenes stories about the cast and crew, giving viewers an inside look at the challenges and successes of the classic PBS series.

It's going to be aca-awesome!

PBS presents Straight No Chaser—Songs of the Decade at 8 pm Monday, August 19. This performance by the professional a cappella group was filmed live at Harrah's Resort in Atlantic City, New Jersey. "End of the Road," all done with SNC's trademark harmonies and unique charm.

“No darkness lasts forever. And even there, there are stars.”

Best known for her science fiction and “Earthsea” fantasy series, celebrated and beloved author Ursula Kroeber Le Guin (1929–2018) wrote 21 novels, 11 volumes of short stories, four collections of essays, 12 children’s books, and six volumes of poetry during her life. American Masters presents the first documentary film exploring the remarkable life and legacy of the prolific and versatile author: Worlds of Ursula K. Le Guin, premiering at 8 pm Friday, August 2.

Produced with Le Guin’s participation over the course of a decade, the documentary tells the intimate coming-of-age story of the Portland, Oregon, housewife and mother of three who forever transformed American literature by bringing science fiction into the literary mainstream. Through her influential work, Le Guin opened doors for generations of younger writers like Neil Gaiman, Margaret Atwood, Michael Chabon and David Mitchell—all of whom appear in the film—to explore fantastic elements in their writing.

The film explores the personal and professional life of the notoriously private author through revealing conversations with Le Guin as well as her family, friends and the generations of writers she influenced. Visually rich, the film illustrates the dramatic real-world settings that shaped Le Guin’s invented places using lush original animations over her own readings of her work to provide a firsthand experience of her fantastic worlds.

A thousand words

Family Pictures USA, a new three-part series, explores American cities, towns, and rural communities through the lens of the family photo album, unearthing rich personal stories that expand our understanding of our shared history, diversity and common values.

Family photos of everyday milestones—marriage, childhood, a new car, a growing business—provide a visual portal through which to examine the roots, surprising connections and provocative parallels that shed light on our collective past and our shared future. The series premieres at 8 pm Monday, August 12.

Big Family: The Story of Bluegrass Music offers a comprehensive look at bluegrass—its origins, the pioneers who shaped its sound, and its worldwide appeal. The documentary, narrated by actor and bluegrass enthusiast Ed Helms, airs at 8 pm Friday, August 30. At the heart of the two-hour film is the music itself, as recordings and performance footage showcase and celebrate its unique sound. More than 50 musicians appear in the film, including Alison Brown, Bela Fleck (left), Del McCoury, Bobby Osborne, Ricky Skaggs, and many more. Using archival and contemporary photos, footage and recordings, the film also chronicles how bluegrass music evolved as American culture and politics played out—revealing that the story of bluegrass music is the story of America.

The Distant Barking of Dogs follows the life of 10-year-old Ukrainian boy Oleg over a year, witnessing the gradual erosion of his innocence beneath the pressures of the ongoing war in Eastern Ukraine. Having no other place to go, Oleg and his grandmother Alexandra stay and watch as others leave the village, showing just how crucial and fragile family is for survival. The film from POV airs at 9 pm Monday, August 5.

Remember WILL in your will

We love making people happy with our lineup of programs from “across the pond.” They are a lively counterpoint to our terrific news and information, classical music, cultural programs, documentaries, and children’s programming. And they’re all right here in central Illinois.

Our ability to buy British comedies and mysteries like Shakespeare and Hathaway and Father Brown is assured through an annual boost from an endowment created by Howard Rutan of Fithian, Illinois. Howard left a gift for WILL-TV in his will. He spent many pleasant evenings at home on his family farm, creating detailed arts and crafts projects while watching British dramas, mysteries, and comedies on WILL television.

Has your love for great music, excellent news reporting on WILL radio, or terrific programs for all ages on WILL television led you to name WILL in your will or estate plans? Please let us know because such gifts help WILL plan for its future. Call us at 217-333-7300 or email Danda Beard (dtbeard@illinois.edu) or Erin Lippitz (elippitz@illinois.edu). We would love to include your name in the Donald P. Mullally Legacy Circle. The Circle is named for Don Mullally, who became WILL’s general manager in 1974 and was the first GM to endorse and encourage private gifts for the stations.

Don’t have a will? Now is a great time to start planning and consider a bequest to the University of Illinois Foundation/WILL. Call for more information, “bequest language,” and our federal tax identification number to share with your attorney and/or financial advisor.

WILL upgrades studio equipment

We are excited to announce that Illinois Public Media has finished a much-needed technological upgrade to our video production studio and equipment! Our new High Definition studio cameras, graphics display system, production switcher, and distribution system has replaced analog audio and video equipment that is no longer supported and now considered obsolete technology. The new HD production studio will allow us to create a variety of high-quality live and file based content both more effectively and efficiently.

The new equipment was installed in April, with our production staff receiving training in May. Our first live HD broadcast was on June 6 with an episode of Mid-American Gardener.

The new equipment has made our live TV transmissions and productions more reliable, better looking and sounding, and has provided more resources for local content creation.

Anna Casey joins The 21st staff

Anna Casey was recently hired as a producer for Illinois Public Media's daily talk show The 21st. Casey, formerly a reporter in the WILL Newsroom, didn't originally plan to be a journalist. "I graduated from Knox College with a degree in international relations and Spanish, but a few years later, I went back to school and earned my master's degree in journalism from the University of Texas." But her journalism roots are strong, as she and her siblings often created their own radio show. "When we visited our grandparents as kids, they would let us use their tape recorder loaded with a blank cassette. We had interviews and breaking news."

Later, Casey used that natural reporting talent as an intern for Texas Standard, a daily news show from the Austin, Texas, NPR station, where she became hooked on public media. "I loved hearing the voices of people behind the stories, especially people who wouldn't normally have their voices on the radio. Now, I can't really imagine having any other job that I would enjoy this much."

Casey will now continue to work behind the scenes as a producer for The 21st. She's very happy to still be a part of public media. "I like that public media provides context to stories, but also really allows you to hear directly from the regular people who have a stake in something. So much more emotion can be conveyed on the radio."

When she's not working, Casey is an avid reader and runner. "To balance out my news consumption, I read a lot of fiction and listen to a lot of music. I like to run most mornings, and I also spend time with my dog, Leroy, a Lab mix who seems to reveal a new quirk to me each day."

Welcome to the staff, Anna!
