Bing Crosby
Rediscovered
American Masters
I watched too, and even at my young age, I was fascinated with the power of television to deliver such an experience. That moment—shared by an estimated 500 million people around the world—may have planted the seed for my career in public media.

I still believe in what all of us gain when we connect around inspiring content from PBS, NPR and local member stations such as ours. This month, you’ll find a mix of new specials and PBS core programs, including Nature, NOVA, American Masters and Antiques Roadshow featured during our WILL-TV pledge drive Dec. 1-14. Based on viewer feedback, PBS is making a commitment to including the shows you enjoy throughout the year in the pledge drive schedule. Among them is NOVA: First Man on the Moon, offering a first-time portrait of Neil Armstrong, a private Midwesterner made famous by the Apollo 11 mission. See page 2 for details.

Thank you for your support of programs on WILL-TV, WILL Radio and online at will.illinois.edu. If you’d like to renew your support or give an additional gift, we’ve included a gift envelope, or you can make your gift online at willpledge.org. Thank you also for believing in our mission as we continue building the future of Illinois Public Media.

Happy holidays and best wishes for 2015!

Legendary crooner Bing Crosby may be best known for singing Irving Berlin’s White Christmas, but his career of nearly 400 hit songs makes him the most recorded performer in history—an achievement unmatched by any other individual singer or group, including The Beatles, Elvis Presley or Frank Sinatra.

A brilliant entrepreneur, Crosby played an important role in the development of the postwar recording industry. As one of Hollywood’s most popular actors, he won the Oscar for 1944’s Going My Way and starred in the iconic “Road” films with Bob Hope.

Now a new American Masters documentary, Bing Crosby Rediscovered, offers fresh insight on Crosby when it premieres at 7 pm Tuesday, Dec. 2, on WILL-TV. Crosby’s estate granted American Masters unprecedented access to the entertainer’s personal and professional archives, including never-before-seen home movies, dictated recordings, photos and more.

The film features new interviews with all surviving members of Crosby’s immediate family—wife Kathryn, daughter Mary and sons Harry and Nathaniel. It also reveals Crosby’s struggles with his first wife, Dixie Lee, and their sons Gary, Dennis, Phillip and Lindsay. Mary addresses accusations of abuse first published in Gary’s 1983 memoir, which tarnished their father’s legacy. Gary speaks candidly about both his and his mother’s alcoholism, as well as his difficulties with his father in a never-before-seen 1987 interview. Other new interviews include singers Tony Bennett and Michael Feinstein, record producer Ken Barnes, biographer Gary Giddins, and writers Buz Kohan and Larry Grossman, who share the story behind Crosby’s Christmas special duet with David Bowie.

Experiences that draw farm families together

Share warm winter memories of growing up on a farm with award-winning storyteller and author Jerry Apps. In this follow-up to his 2013 Farm Story, Apps shares his wit, wisdom and stories of family, neighbors and communities that worked together to survive the long winters that enveloped his rural boyhood home in central Wisconsin. Farm Winter with Jerry Apps airs at 7 pm Tuesday, Dec. 9.

The man known for taking one giant leap

When Neil Armstrong set foot on the moon in 1969, he won instant fame. Yet this accomplished engineer and test pilot was so determined to stay out of the limelight that few know the personal story of how his rare combination of talent, luck and experience led to his successful command of Apollo 11. Through interviews with Armstrong’s family and friends, NOVA: First Man on the Moon (8 pm Wednesday, Dec. 3) tells his story.

Video bonus: Watch the three-hour moon landing video from NASA. (Armstrong’s famous words come at about the 3:30 mark.)

Yes, we have more Pioneers! It’s been a great season of Illinois Pioneers so far and we’re not stopping yet.
One pilot’s efforts to spread goodwill

Gail “Hal” Halvorsen was a C-54 pilot in the summer of 1948 when a Soviet blockade left the vanquished citizens of Berlin’s Western zone without food and supplies. As two million people faced starvation, Halvorsen took part in the American-British-French operation that airlifted in food and coal. He took the goodwill gesture a step further as he dropped candy for the German children, telling them to watch for a plane that wiggled its wings. This touching story is told through first-hand stories from two of those Berlin children, now in their 70s, Halvorsen’s friend and fellow airlift pilot, and Halvorsen himself. The Candy Bomber comes to WILL-TV at 8:30 pm Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Free preview: Downton Abbey Season 5

Will Lady Mary choose Gillingham or Blake? Will Edith’s secret be revealed? Will Tom Branson return to politics?

Join WILL at the historic Virginia Theatre, 203 W. Park Ave., in Champaign, from 7-9:30 pm Friday, Dec. 12, to watch the first hour of the two-hour Season 5 Downton Abbey premiere coming to WILL-TV in January. Gather a group of friends, put on your finest Downton attire and join the fun! Doors open at 6:30 pm. The theater’s concession snacks and beverages will be for sale and a cash bar will be available. Get more event details and let us know you’re coming at will.illinois.edu/downton. You may also call 217-333-7300 to register. Registrations close at noon Friday, Dec. 12.

If you’re in the Bloomington area, another WILL preview with our sister station WTVP will take place at the Normal Theatre, 209 W. North St., in uptown Normal, from 7-9 pm Wednesday, Dec. 10. More details are at will.illinois.edu/downton.

The inspiration of movie musicals

Take a journey across movie musicals’ Golden Age, spanning from the Great Depression to the Civil Rights Movement, through in-depth looks at The Wizard of Oz, Yankee Doodle Dandy, Singin’ in the Rain, Seven Brides for Seven Brothers, and Viva Las Vegas. Discover how these films overcame ballooning budgets, life-threatening injuries, inexperienced actors, dueling egos and a declaration of war to become among the most treasured movies in history. Classic Hollywood Musicals airs at 9 pm Tuesday, Dec. 2.

Turn to page 17 to find out more about the next two installments in the WILL-TV production.

WILL-AM

Following up on the popularity of Ken Burns’ September 2014 PBS documentary series about the Roosevelts, an hour-long special from American RadioWorks features historic radio broadcasts from Eleanor and FDR. The rarely heard archival audio in the First Family of Radio: Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt’s Historic Broadcasts, as well as oral histories and contemporary interviews, explores how the Roosevelts revolutionized political communication in America. The program comes to WILL-AM at 10 am Friday, Dec. 5.

At 10 am Friday, Dec. 12, Breaking Ground—Military Children covers how nearly two million U.S. children are affected by having at least one parent deployed to a war zone.

Innovation Hub (10 am Friday, Dec. 19, WILL-AM) looks at how innovations are reshaping our holidays by altering approaches to travel, family gatherings, food and more. Then at 10 am Dec. 26, Innovation Hub’s New Year’s Special looks at the research, industries, gadgets and more that will change our world.

Other WILL-AM specials include:
- All Songs Considered for the Holidays, 1-2 pm Sunday, Dec. 20
- St. Olaf Christmas Festival, 7-9 pm Wednesday, Dec. 24
- Tinsel Tales 3, 10-11 am Thursday, Dec. 25
- A Christmas Carol, reading of Dickens’ story by the late U of I professor Paul Landis, 2-3 pm Thursday, Dec. 25

WILL-FM

Hanukkah Lights 2014 features new stories from acclaimed authors Debra Ginsberg, Anne Burt, Lesley Hyatt, Andrew Borowitz and Theodore Bikel at 7 pm Monday, Dec. 15.

Airing on WILL Radio for the first time is An Afro-Blue Christmas at 7 pm Friday, Dec. 19. The concert features Howard University’s premier vocal ensemble and special guest pianist Cyrus Chestnut. It’s followed by NPR’s Jazz Piano Christmas XXX, the annual concert from the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Then at 7 pm Thursday, Dec. 25, the Messiah from Washington National Cathedral is followed by A Baroque Christmas in the New World. This special, on WILL Radio for the first time, offers music from 17th- and 18th-century Mexico, Peru and Bolivia, including three free-standing works by Sumaya.

See the FM listings on pages 4-5 for the schedule of all holiday programs.

All kinds of natural aviators

Don’t miss Nature: Best of Birds (7 pm Wednesday, Dec. 3), a special featuring some of the most memorable bird stories—compelling, emotional and humorous—from Nature’s award-winning productions, including My Life as a Turkey, An Original DUCKumentary, Hummingbirds: Magic in the Air, Raptor Force, Birds of the Gods, Ireland’s Wild River and many others.

Challenging Poirot’s little grey cells

Confined to a wheelchair and crippled with arthritis, the now elderly Hercule Poirot is reunited with his old friend Captain Hastings at Styles, the large country house where they met 30 years ago and solved their first murder investigation together. As Poirot’s health deteriorates and their fellow guests begin to fall victim to confounding attacks, the great detective must summon the last of his strength to battle his ultimate nemesis. Curtain: Poirot’s Last Case airs at 8 pm Sunday, Dec. 7.

The music of change

50 Years with Peter, Paul and Mary (8:30 pm Monday, Dec. 1) celebrates this trio’s impact in bringing folk music to America’s mass audiences while combining artistry, activism and inspiration. It features powerful, moving performances starting with the group’s emergence in Greenwich Village and continuing through the Civil Rights and anti-war eras, showing how the music that became the soundtrack of social and political change still resonates today.
In celebration of the release of his 2013 album, Musical Gifts, world-renowned violinist Joshua Bell welcomed cameras into his home for a rare and intimate concert. The result is Joshua Bell Presents Musical Gifts (9 pm Wednesday, Dec. 24), a salon-style performance of holiday standards featuring Renee Fleming, Michael Feinstein, the Young People’s Chorus of New York and others.

Come along with historian Julian Davidson as he travels from Norway to the Italian Adriatic coast, sampling the delights of some of the most dramatic and fascinating railway journeys in Europe. In addition to the breathtaking scenery, Davison provides insight into culture and history in Great Railway Journeys of Europe at 7 pm Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Join New York Times best-selling author Bruce Feiler (right) on a journey to six of the world’s most rigorous religious pilgrimages, all undertaken in one remarkable year. The six-part Sacred Journeys with Bruce Feiler opens a window into the human quest for meaning while also including world history and personal stories of faith exploration. The first two episodes air at 7 pm and 8 pm Tuesday, Dec. 16, followed by more installments on Dec. 23 and 30. See listings for individual program descriptions.

Gaining understanding of lands considered holy
A new Rick Steves’ Special: The Holy Land, Israelis and Palestinians Today (9 pm Tuesday, Dec. 16) weaves together both the Israeli and the Palestinian narratives to better understand a place that is, for a third of humanity, literally holy land. Steves delves deeply to better understand and empathize with both peoples, learning about security walls, disputed settlements and the persistent challenges facing the region as Israelis and Palestinians learn to coexist peacefully.
Illinois Pioneers guests: a youth mentor and a recording studio founder

Retired electrician Jeff Perkins (above, left) founded Caring Black Men of Decatur several years ago after seeing too many news stories about young men getting into trouble. Perkins got together a group of about 20 men to begin an effort to provide mentors and role models for African American youth. “They sit down and talk with young men about what it is to be a man and about the expectations of their family and community,” said Illinois Pioneers host David Inge.

David’s conversation with Perkins is one of two new Illinois Pioneers episodes airing this month. This episode airs at 7:30 pm Thursday, Dec. 11.

Caring Black Men of Decatur now works in 13 of 22 Decatur schools and sees 300 young men a week. “Perkins says school officials have been pleased with the results pointing to improved grades and behavior for the young men who participate,” David says.

On Dec. 18, Illinois Pioneers sits down with Mark Rubel (above, right), founder of the legendary Pogo Studio. “When Rubel was 8 years old, his parents gave him a little battery-powered tape machine,” David said. He experimented with recording and then splicing, cutting and altering the tape any way he could. When he was 12, he took up the bass after seeing an instrument in a store shining like it was “lit from heaven,” David said. “So it’s probably not a surprise that he became a musician.” Rubel has played bass with Captain Rat and the Blind Rivets for more than 30 years.

From the mid-1980s until last year, Rubel worked at Pogo Studio in downtown Champaign. Now he lives in Nashville, where he teaches studio technique at the Blackbird Academy, housed in one of Nashville’s and the world’s best recording studios. “He recently purchased a home that came with its own studio, where he says Pogo will rise again,” David said.
Intern Lise Graham brings new social media perspective to WILL

Lise Graham sees the good side and the bad side of social media. “I think it’s the enemy sometimes, for sure,” said the University of Illinois College of Media senior in broadcast journalism. “For my generation, it so easily skews people’s perceptions of themselves. It’s not real.”

But there’s a lot that’s positive about using social media such as Twitter, Facebook and Instagram. “I think helping people find Illinois Public Media content in new ways is exciting,” she said. Her generation has to be good at social media because many careers today require it, and because it is useful in managing their social lives. “But lately, I’ve made it a point to find an application for social media in the real world—like cooking and reading and enjoying my friends,” she said.

Lise is interning in the WILL newsroom this semester, offering story ideas and helping strategize about the use of social media. She’s researching Tumblr, another form of social media, and will report her findings to marketing director Lisa Bralts.

Many of her friends won’t listen to a long news story on the radio or online. “I believe that radios will be around as long as there are cars,” she said. “That’s great, but what are we going to do with it? How are we going to make people care?”

Public media may seem old-fashioned, Lise said, but it’s the most sincere option. “It all comes back to the honesty and transparency. It’s a liberated but unappreciated mechanism that we have.”

Lise grew up watching WTTW-TV so she learned the value of public media early. She discovered public radio when her uncle told her to listen to WBEZ Chicago’s Wait, Wait…Don’t Tell Me. “The first podcast I listened to was The Moth,” she said. “I love stories. If you have a good story, I want to hear it.”

In high school, she worked at the award-winning radio station at Lyons Township High School in La Grange. In college, she has interned at WGN Radio and Norton Advertising Agency, both in Chicago, and has been a writer, producer, social media director and on-air personality at WPGU Radio in Champaign. She spent a semester abroad at the University of Sheffield in England where she worked at Forge Student Radio. “I’d love to work overseas,” she said.

Did you know that you can give a one-year WILL membership to a friend or family member?

And if the gift to WILL is $40 or more, that special person will be reminded of your generosity every month when he or she receives this Patterns member program guide.

At the $72 level and above, your friend or family member also receives the WILL Membercard that offers 2-for-1 dining at participating restaurants as well as discounts on lodging, special attractions and online shopping retailers.

Call 217-244-9455 or 1-800-898-1065 or make the gift online at willpledge.org, then enter the recipient’s name and address in the comment section of the form.
Book Mentor Profile: Sarah Dean

Why did you become a Book Mentor?
I’m blessed that the company I work for, Rogards Office Plus in Champaign, offers paid volunteer hours every quarter. I knew I wanted to do something with literacy…then through one of our customers, Meyer Capel Law Firm, I learned from our contact about their involvement with the Book Mentor Project. I immediately thought it was a great opportunity for me. I love working with preschool and elementary school age kids and to be able to combine time with kids and literacy seemed like such a wonderful thing.

Did you love reading when you were a child?
 Actually, I was a slow reader…I enjoyed reading, but really struggled with it. So it’s important for me now to make reading fun for kids.

What do you enjoy about reading to the kids on Book Mentor days?
 I like the theatrics of it and that they get invested in the characters. I also enjoy seeing their reactions to what’s happening in the story and getting them involved with it—I like that exchange.

What was your favorite childhood book?
The one that I have the best memories of is a Dr. Seuss book called Oh Say Can You Say? that I read with my mom. It’s a book of tongue twisters with fun characters and made-up words.

What is your favorite book you’ve read to the Book Mentor kids?
Not a Box. It’s so simple, and it leaves so much room for generating ideas and encouraging kids’ imaginations.

Amdocs, Meyer Capel, PNC and Rogards all have employees who participate in the Book Mentor Project, along with community volunteers. They visit early childhood classrooms once a month to share a book and do an activity with the children. PNC supports the Book Mentor Project with a three-year $90,000 grant.

Sarah Dean (left) and Heather Culbertson of Rogards share the story Not a Box as volunteers through the Book Mentor Project.
Twenty-two individuals representing the WILL stations’ geographic service areas across central Illinois comprise the Community Advisory Committee for Illinois Public Media.

The group, which reconvened this fall for the new fiscal year, gathers information and opinions about community issues and needs; helps heighten awareness of the WILL stations and services of Illinois Public Media; advocates for broad-based support; identifies and encourages new sources of funding for specific projects; and reviews and advises on legislation designed to improve the quality of public media.
Gifts that keep on giving

We don’t have a connection to the North Pole…
we have something better—dedicated Program Underwriters that can make this season of gift giving like a ride in a sleigh. So as you get underway with shopping and preparing for holiday gatherings, remember to support the businesses that support your local public media.

Thanks and best wishes for healthy, happy holidays!
