WILL AM-FM-TV-Online, Illinois Public Media

Illinois Public Media (IPM), which includes WILL-TV, shall complete an annual report of the organization’s hiring goals, guidelines, employment statistics and actions undertaken to satisfy the IPM Diversity Eligibility Policy and post the report on the WILL website or make the report available for public inspection upon request.

The IPM Diversity Eligibility Policy was revised and reviewed by the IPM Community Advisory Committee (CAC) at their meeting on September 13, 2016, and no further revisions were made in FY16. The Annual Diversity Report for September 2016 will be reviewed by the CAC at their quarterly meeting on December 14, 2016.

IPM Diversity Practices and Initiatives to meet Diversity Goals

1. Recruit and retain a diverse workforce and provide equal opportunity in employment.

Six searches to fill full-time vacancies for a Digital Media Associate Producer (9/21/15), Director National and International Content (9/25/15), Communications Manager (10/05/15), Human Resources Coordinator (10/05/15), Senior Producer (11/16/15), Multi Media Producer, (05/25/16) took place during IPM’s FCC-EEO reporting period of 8/1/2015 through 07/31/2016, following the equal employment guidelines of the FCC. Diverse recruitment sources were utilized in an effort to attract qualified candidates from underrepresented groups. The search guidelines of the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Access (ODEA) were followed to maintain a fair and open hiring process. These guidelines are available online at http://diversity.illinois.edu.

2. Diversity training for management and staff.

IPM supervisors and managers are encouraged to attend workshops in diversity awareness offered by the University of Illinois during the academic year. Additional diversity awareness training is provided to search committee members at the beginning of a search process for each hire to ensure the fair, unbiased evaluation of candidates and to improve recruiting efforts for qualified, diverse candidates.

3. Diversity in Illinois Public Media internship and work-study student opportunities.

Three minority work-study students were hired from the University of Illinois to work on the WILL-TV Production crew this year. These students are given the opportunity to learn and improve technical skills in camera operation, floor direction, teleprompter operation, and call-in phone coverage for live studio productions.
Additionally, two or three work-study students from the University of Illinois are hired annually and trained to handle customer service and provide staff support for various departments at the stations. Through this work, students learn a great deal about different aspects of the broadcasting operation, including radio and television programming, development/fundraising activities, marketing, production, and an overview of the technical areas covered by broadcast engineering and operations.

Four interns worked in the WILL radio News and Public Affairs department during this reporting period and received course credit from the University of Illinois. These media research, news reporter and public affairs program producer interns received mentoring and training from the IPM news and public affairs staff and News Director.

Of the fourteen interns and work-study students in FY2016, eight were female and four were from racial or ethnic minority groups.

The diversity statistics for IPM staff and for CAC members have not appreciably improved since FY2016. One member left, and the vacancy was filled. IPM will continue to make efforts to recruit and interview qualified diverse candidates for these hires. In nominating and selecting members of the Community Advisory Committee, IPM management strives to identify individuals who will represent all the culturally and racially diverse communities that we serve, including rural areas, small and mid-size towns, and the University of Illinois.

Section 3. No organizations asked to be notified of vacancies.

Section 4. Supplemental (Non-Vacancy Specific) Outreach/Recruitment Activities Undertaken by WILL/Illinois Public Media during reporting period 8/1/15-7/31/16.

Participation in events relating to career opportunities sponsored by educational institutions.

On Wednesday March 30 from 11:00am to 1:00pm WILL participated in the Eastern Illinois University Broadcast Job Fair. EIU alum and WILL Digital Media Associate Producer, Steve Morck represented the station. He met with approximately twenty people with different interest and skill levels the attendees included more females than males, and the people were diverse ethnic backgrounds. Steve report that three or four good of the people he meet would be good candidates for future positions at WILL. Steve provide material and encouraged them to watch our posting site and to apply. He recommended we participate in the fair next year. He also directed television production skilled attendees to contact the WILL production manager directly. Through his effort we have hired a video production specialist for a part-time position.

Participation in other activities designed by the station to develop employment opportunities in broadcasting.

On an on-going basis, the WILL Stations work with teachers at University Laboratory High School in Urbana, Illinois to develop an oral history curriculum to train students in the basics of audio production and journalism. Each year, the students produce a documentary that is broadcast on WILL Radio and WILL online. Their current project is on the topic of The Right to Marry, resulting in interviews and blog posts during this reporting period, with a radio documentary to be broadcast in the fall of 2016. Several students have chosen to major in journalism at the college level as a result of this experience. http://will.illinois.edu/illinoisyouthmedia/righttomarry

Participation in job fairs by personnel who have responsibility in the making of hiring decisions.

WILL/IPM did not attend or participate in any job fairs during reporting period 8/1/15-7/31/16.

Training opportunities for station personnel.

WILL production and education staff attended four on-line training sessions regarding the technical procedures and editorial standards required to add content to PBS Learning Media. Training sessions were led by PBS staff Valerie Miller, Digital Library Specialist, and Kristin Lehner, Editorial Director. We successfully uploaded educational assets to PBS Learning Media that will support high school social studies teachers teaching the Vietnam War and WWII. WILL staff collaborated with WQPT to create the WWII content and with an award-winning science teacher, Mark Foley, to create the lesson plans from oral histories videotaped by WILL.

Station WILL-TV hires minority trainees, with little or no experience in television production, and teaches them the rudiments of camera operation and studio production. The young people involved in this program are provided with skills that can qualify them for higher level, full-time positions in broadcasting. Three minority trainees were employed during this reporting period.

Work-study students from the University of Illinois are hired annually and trained to handle customer service and provide staff support for various departments at the stations. Through this work, students learn a great deal about different aspects of the broadcasting operation, including radio and television programming, development/fundraising activities, marketing, production, and an overview of the technical areas covered by broadcast engineering and operations. Students are encouraged to participate in station activities and to learn about careers through direct interaction with various broadcast professionals. One minority students were hired and trained in this position during this reporting period.
Internship opportunities designed to develop skills needed for broadcast employment.

WILL/IPM initiated three new internships. The Dave Benton Internship in News and Public Affairs, a Sports Internship in collaboration with News and Public Affairs and the College of Media, and the 21st Internship. One student hired for the Dave Benton Internship, a graduate student at the University of Illinois. One student intern hired from Augustana College to learn hands-on experience with a live talk show. Working alongside professional reporters, hosts, and producers. One student intern hired as the Sports Internship. Two students intern hired as the Donald P. Mullally Internship in News and Public Affairs, and both were students from the University of Illinois. WILL/IPM Community Content and Engagement hired two interns as Educational Outreach Assistants to learn and assist with educational outreach programs. Last, WILL/IPM National/International Production unit hired five Media Research Interns. Altogether WILL/IPM hired ten internships during this reporting period. WILL/IPM successfully hired twelve interns during reporting period. Four minority student interns were hired during this reporting period.
