PATTERNS • JANUARY 2017

patterns

January 2017 Volume XLIV, Number 7

Recently, the role of media in our society has taken center stage. The line between truth and fiction is not just blurred; it's completely disappeared. False news makes more headlines than real news, and memes full of inaccuracies are treated as legitimate news sources.

Our work is always important, but at this point in our history, it's crucial. As a community-focused local media organization, we're recommitting ourselves to connecting with diverse communities across our region. That includes bringing people together through listening sessions and community conversations, highlighting a wider range of voices in our programming and news coverage, and providing students and others in central Illinois with the tools to help increase media literacy and separate fact from fiction and reliable sources from fake news. On the national level, NPR and PBS are focused on building stronger relationships with member stations to bring you factual stories that add context and understanding. This is a moment of self-reflection for many media organizations, and as we look ahead to the challenges our communities face in the coming days, months, and years, it's more clear than ever that you expect public media to seek the truth, hold leaders accountable, inform and inspire, and bring you high-quality news and information that you can trust.

This is where we need your support, Friends. For truth to endure in this society, public media needs your backing. We cannot allow falsehoods to replace honesty, rumors to replace reality, and lies to replace facts.

As we enter this new year, we renew our commitment to bringing you high-quality news stories. Illinois Public Media is dedicated to fighting the good fight. Will you join us?

Rule, Victoria!

Jenna Coleman stars as the young Queen Victoria at the outset of her epic reign, which set the stage for an entire era that would be named in her honor. Scripted by bestselling novelist Daisy Goodwin, Victoria airs in seven magnificent parts, fit for a queen, on Masterpiece Classic beginning at 8 pm Sunday, January 15.

Following Victoria from her accession to the throne at age 18, through her education in politics, courtship, and marriage, Victoria paints a portrait of a monarch who was raised to be the pawn of her powerful elders but who wasted no time in showing the empire who was in charge.

The stellar cast includes Rufus Sewell as Lord Melbourne, the British prime minister who was Victoria's father figure and intimate friend; Tom Hughes as the handsome, brilliant, and awkward Prince Albert, who stole Victoria's heart after a rocky start; and Alex Jennings as Leopold I, King of Belgium, Victoria and Albert's matchmaking uncle who had dreams of a dynasty for his obscure royal line—which he amazingly achieved.

In Victoria, writer Daisy Goodwin imaginatively depicts what it was like for an ill-educated, emotionally deprived teenager to wake up one morning and find that she is the most powerful woman in the world. That it happened at all was practically a miracle. Victoria was queen only by virtue of ill luck and unfruitful marriages on the part of her uncles, who failed to produce legitimate heirs to the crown. Furthermore, her immediate predecessors were so disliked as kings that the institution of the monarchy seemed to be doomed. Victoria charts how the new ruler rose to the challenge and weathered a series of crises—some of her own making—without ever losing her youthful charm and innate sense of justice, which made her popular with her subjects.

PBS Kids 24/7 channel starts January 16!

The new, multiplatform PBS Kids channel and web services begins January 16! This unique experience provides children and their families with round-the-clock, award-winning, PBS Kids programming, whether through television or web.

PBS Kids is dedicated to serving all children with high quality, innovative educational content. As children's viewing rises throughout the day—with highest viewing occurring when PBS does not currently air children's content—PBS recognized the need to reach children and their families during the early evening kids "primetime" (5-9 pm) and on weekends. And while television is still the primary source for video viewing, an increasing number of children are accessing video content through digital and mobile devices.

Parents know that PBS KIDS makes a difference in their children's lives, which is why so many have said they would value having access to our content throughout the day. Television continues to be the most widely used platform for children's educational content, especially among low-income families," said PBS President and CEO Paula Kerger. "The new PBS KIDS 24/7 channel and live stream offered by local member stations ensure that educational media is available to all families, all the time and via a platform that works for them. Given that 54% of all children nationwide do not have the opportunity to attend preschool, providing access is a critical element of our public service mission."

With this new access, all children will be able to view PBS Kids programming, whether they watch on television or the web. Plus, web viewers will also get the chance to play games and do activities related to the show they just watched.

Favorite PBS Kids shows such as Wild Kratts, Odd Squad, Nature Cat, Ready Jet Go!, and Daniel Tiger's Neighborhood, as well as the latest new hit Splash and Bubbles, will all be included in the new programming. You can find the new PBS Kids station on channel 12.2. WILL will also continue its kids lineup on our primary channel 12.

To see the PBS Kids 24/7 listings, go to www.will.illinois.edu.

American Parlor Songbook joins WILL-FM 90.9's Saturday line up

American Parlor Songbook will debut at 9 pm Saturday, January 7, immediately following Midnight Special. Hosted from the piano by JP Houston with his wife, Julie Van Dusen, the show features clever songs, charming stories, and hilarious sketches every week. The pair are joined by guests from national music acts to raconteurs and stand-ups.

JP Houston is a Canadian-born singer, composer, and storyteller. Beginning his professional career while still in high school, JP has composed an extensive catalogue of songs for film, TV, theater, and record.

His work has appeared on HBO, CBC, BBC, PBS, CBS, and networks around the world. Houston was nominated for a Gemini Award (Canadian Emmy), and co-wrote a song appearing in the Macy's Thanksgiving Parade. JP tours and records constantly. He has shared stages across North America and Europe with artists like Leon Russell, Kyuss, Victoria Williams, M. Ward, Band of Horses, and a host of other notable acts.

Julie Van Dusen is a stage actress hailing from Michigan, a graduate of the prestigious Interlochen Arts Academy, and the Oakland University theater program, Julie has held key roles in many acclaimed productions. She received a nomination from The Detroit News, another for an Irene Ryan Award, and a nod for best actress from the Oakland Press.

Create and World merge on channel 12.3

To accommodate the creation of PBS Kids 24/7, the decision was made to merge our Create and World broadcasts to one channel. "Here at WILL, we understand that viewers don't want to miss out on their favorite programming on both the World and Create channels. After looking at our most popular shows, we determined that it would be best to provide Create in the mornings and World in the evenings, with the channel swap at 5 am/pm," said David

Thiel, content director at IPM. "As this is also the programming that we highlight in Patterns, this feels like a natural transition."

The Create and World listings will continue to remain on page 8 of your Patterns magazine.

▲ A new ecological consciousness

When Rachel Carson's seminal book Silent Spring was published in 1962, the US was the world's leading superpower and industrial powerhouse. A warning about the long-term dangers of pesticides, the book sparked a nationwide debate that featured vigorous attacks by the chemical industry and influencing JFK to launch an investigation into the public health effects. In the end, Silent Spring effectively launched the modern environmental movement. American Experience: Rachel Carson at 7 pm Tuesday, January 24 illuminates the public and private life of the woman whose writings revolutionized how we understand our relationship with the natural world.

Retrieving their history ▶

For the Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho tribes living on the isolated Wind River Indian Reservation in Wyoming, new contact with lost artifacts risks opening old wounds but also offers the possibility for healing. A young Northern Arapaho journalist and a teenage powwow princess travel with an Eastern Shoshone elder to search for missing artifacts in the vast archives of a museum. There they discover a treasure trove of ancestral objects, setting them on a journey to recover what has been lost and build hope for the future. What Was Ours premieres on Independent Lens at 9 pm Monday, January 16.

The New America ▶

Visit Jackson Heights in Queens, New York, one of the most ethnically and culturally diverse communities in the United States and the world. At 8 pm Friday, January 6, In Jackson Heights looks at the daily life of the people in this community and the conflict between maintaining ties to the traditions of their countries of origin and the desire to learn and adapt to American ways and values. This 40th documentary for director Frederick Wiseman earned the 2015 New York Film Critics Circle Award for Best Non-Fiction Film.

◀ On a nuclear level

The long-hidden story of a deadly 1980 accident at a Titan II missile complex in Damascus, Arkansas, American Experience presents Command and Control, an Oscar-nominated film that exposes the terrifying truth about the management of America's nuclear arsenal and what can happen when weapons built to protect us threaten to destroy us. Airing at 8 pm Tuesday, January 10, it features the minute-by-minute accounts of those who were on the scene and reveals the unlikely chain of events that caused the accident, as well as the feverish efforts to prevent the explosion of a ballistic missile carrying the most powerful nuclear warhead ever built by the US.

◀ Divided States of America

Days before the inauguration of the 45th American president, Frontline looks back at events during the Obama presidency that have revealed deep divisions in our country and examines the America the next president will inherit. This two-part program airs at 8 pm Tuesday and Wednesday, January 17 and 18 and offers an in-depth view of the partisanship that gridlocked Washington and charged the 2016 presidential campaign, the rise of populist anger on both sides of the aisle and the racial tensions that have erupted throughout the country.

▲ Sherlock and Dr. Watson return January 1

Three new episodes of Masterpiece Mystery's award-winning hit Sherlock begin at 8 pm Sunday, January 1. Co-creators, writers and executive producers Steven Moffat and Mark Gatiss say, "Sherlock series four - here we go again! Whatever else we do, wherever we all go, all roads lead back to Baker Street - and it always feels like coming home. Ghosts of the past are rising in the lives of Sherlock Holmes and John Watson bringing adventure, romance and terror in their wake. This is the story we've been telling from the beginning and it's about to reach its climax."

Legends and Landmarks

Landmarks Live is a new popular music series that follows a major artist or band as they visit landmark locations, relive landmark moments, and throw fans a one-of-a-kind landmark show. The series premieres at 8 pm Friday, January 20 with a native New Yorker from Hell's Kitchen, Grammy Award-winning artist Alicia Keys. Her collaboration with Jay Z, "Empire State of Mind," automatically became the city's newest anthem. In this debut Landmarks Live special recorded over a one-year period, Alicia's love affair with New York continues as she performs in notable locations all around town including the city's world famous Circle Line harbor tour, the Unisphere in Queens, and Harlem's Apollo Theater.

Then at 8 pm Friday, January 27, country music superstar Brad Paisley returns to his roots in the beautiful Appalachian Mountains for a special outdoor concert at West Virginia University. As the hit-maker behind 23 number one singles and the winner of just about every country music award imaginable, Brad brings his unique skills as a singer songwriter, guitarist and entertainer back to his home state as well as to "viewers like you" everywhere.

New Mullaly intern brings philanthropy to film

Journalism student Christine La knows what it is like to need help. Growing up in Uptown Chicago, her parents came from Vietnam in 1991, and that was the beginning of 10-12 hour shifts at a newspaper factory for both of them. Living in section 8 housing and dressing in thrift store clothing was not the American Dream they pictured.

“I grew up with nothing, so now I appreciate everything.”

La graduated with her bachelor’s degree in Broadcast Journalism at the University of Illinois in Urbana-Champaign and will receive her master’s in Journalism in May. She is currently working on her master’s project: a short documentary on Richard B. Turner, a well-known and beloved homeless man in the campus community. Turner’s sudden death in November has transformed the documentary into more of a tribute.

Entertainment and videography has always been her passion. After seeing the power entertainment has on society at a young age, instead of gossip tabloids and rumors, she saw the importance of including the good things that come from the entertainment industry into the news: philanthropy.

After graduation, La plans to move to Los Angeles. “I’ve been vlogging on YouTube to keep up my skills in filming and editing. I plan to record the entire process of my move to L.A.” But fame is not something La seeks. She loves anything television-related but gets the jobs done behind-the-scenes.

“And while my main interest is entertainment, helping others will always be my aim. I know that it can be the smallest things that help. People often think they need to make a grand donation to have an impact, but even a smile to someone in need is powerful. I want to encourage people to do more of the little things to make a difference.”

As the Mullally intern, La works with IPM’s community content and engagement department as well as news and public affairs.

“I’m happy to begin this internship and to dive more into early childhood education. Being able to utilize my journalism skills to bring awareness to the importance of equality in education for low-income families is great; working with kids in this internship is just icing on the cake.”

Christine, welcome to the IPM staff!

Ride the rails

All aboard for our 6th private rail journey. Join our history-themed tour as we travel south to Texas and Louisiana. At historic sites we include guided sightseeing and museum visits. Travel with us this spring and celebrate the golden age of trains on private restored train cars from the 1950s.

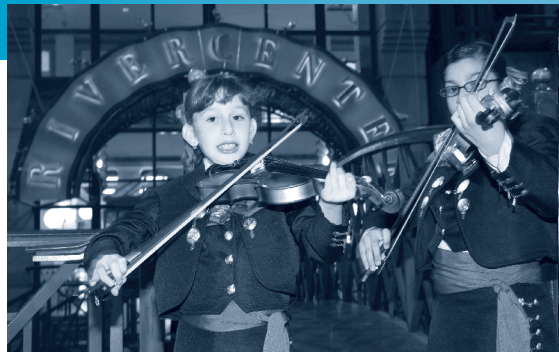

Itinerary

Day 1 Wednesday: St. Louis-Overnight Train

Our private train cars are scheduled to depart Chicago at 1:45 pm attached to train 21, the Texas Eagle, picking up in Illinois cities en route to St. Louis arriving at 8:00 pm. Continue south through the night.

Day 2 Thursday: En Route-San Antonio

Enjoy American vistas at “see level.” Fine dining and premium beverages are included throughout the day as we glide south. Arrive in San Antonio at 9:55 pm. Our private cars are detached from the train and parked in the station’s yard where we stay for three nights.

Day 3 Friday: San Antonio

This morning we visit the Texas Transportation Museum and ride on The Longhorn and Western Railroad. The museum’s collection includes a 1926 business car built for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway’s Division superintendents. See also old autos, fire trucks and horse-drawn carriages.

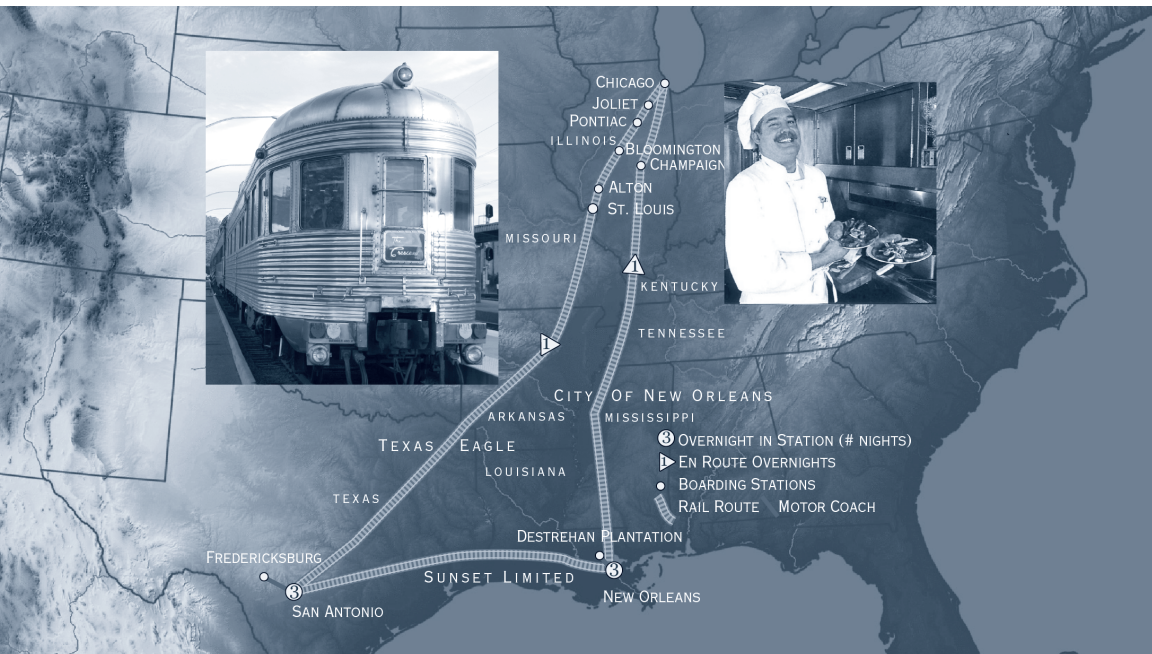

Day 4 Saturday: San Antonio-Fredericksburg

We drive out of the city to the LBJ ranch via Johnson City, which was the boyhood home of President Lyndon B Johnson. The ranch has been restored as the Texas

White House like it was in 1964. Then we continue on to German-founded Fredericksburg in wine country.

Day 5 Sunday: San Antonio-New Orleans

Depart at 6:20 am. Heading east to New Orleans on the Sunset Limited, we have another relaxing day of scenery riding the rails with free-flowing adult beverages plus snacks and fine dining in our private rail cars. We are scheduled to arrive in New Orleans at 9:40 pm. Our private cars are parked in the station where we stay for three nights.

Day 6 Monday:
New Orleans

This morning we visit the National WWII Museum including the 4D show, Beyond All Boundaries, taking us on a journey through the war that changed the world. This explosive show is narrated by executive producer, Tom Hanks. This afternoon you can see more of the museum or use the included streetcar pass to head to the French Quarter. We suggest treating yourself to a beignet at the world-famous Cafe du Monde, a must-do when in New Orleans! Dinner is included aboard the train.

Day 7 Tuesday: New Orleans

Today we head to the countryside to tour the Destrehan Plantation built in 1790 patterned after the great sugar plantations' homes in the West Indies. After lunch we head back into the city for a guided visit to an ornate cemetery. Finally, we make a stop at the Civil War Museum at Confederate Hall. This evening is free giving you the opportunity to sample the varied cuisine and night life of New Orleans.

Day 8 Wednesday: New Orleans-Chicago

Use your included streetcar pass for transportation from the train station to the French Quarter. Enjoy free time until 1:00 pm at which you will return to the train station to reboard our train. Our 1:45 pm impressive Museum of Science & Industry. Don't miss the huge "cross-country" train layout (and for an extra charge, the well-restored U-505 submarine exhibit). Downstate travelers have free time in the city scheduled departure on the City of New Orleans begins our journey north.

Day 9 Thursday:
Chicago-St. Louis

We are scheduled to arrive in Chicago at 9:00 am. Today we have an optional tour that includes admission to Chicago's impressive Museum of Science & Industry. Don't miss the huge "cross-country" train layout (and for an extra charge, the well-restored U-505 submarine exhibit). Downstate travelers have free time in the city until our 7:00 p.m. departure for central Illinois or St. Louis, wherever you began the trip.

- Rail transportation • Admissions

Brian Moline named Managing Editor of Illinois Public Media Newsroom

Brian Moline, host of Morning Edition on WILL-AM, will now be the new managing editor of IPM's Newsroom. Scott Cameron, executive editor of Illinois Newsroom, said promoting Moline was a natural transition. "The move maintains strong leadership in the newsroom while IPM continues to push forward with the launch of Illinois Newsroom. It's a recognition of Brian's editorial and leadership strengths and of his deep commitment to the mission and values of public media and IPM."

Moline will now be in charge of the local newsroom at IPM, overseeing the day-to-day operations and story assignments, as well as working with Cameron to determine which stories should be shared with Illinois Newsroom, the new state journalism collaborative. "I've been in management roles outside of radio, but this is my first time managing a newsroom. I look forward to the challenges that come with that. As Illinois Newsroom is a new initiative, there will always be the unexpected, but we know that the bottom line will be better news coverage on state events across the board for our listeners," said Moline.

Moline joined the IPM staff in June 2015, fulfilling his dream of working in public radio. He will continue to host Morning Edition while taking on his new role.

Congratulations, Brian!

Says You in C-U

Join host Barry Nolan (right) and his panelists for a live performance of the "game of words" public radio show Says You in Champaign-Urbana at 7 pm Saturday, February 4. The live show, which will be taped for later broadcast, will be in the University of Illinois Lincoln Hall Auditorium, 702 S. Wright St., Urbana. It will feature special local guests and a local musical act.

You can make a gift to WILL to get a pair of premium seats for the 7 pm taping and an invitation to a special reception event with Nolan and the panelists at 5:30 pm the night of the show. For more information go to will.illinois.edu/saysyoushow

Airing at 10 am Sundays on WILL-AM, Says You is played by two teams in front of live, enthusiastic audiences. For almost two deacades, Says You has offered listeners some of the best quips, quotes, and questions that public radio has to offer.

Dozens of game categories include Cryptic Puns, Definitions and Derivations, What's the Difference, and Odd Man Out. And at the core of the game are the bluffing rounds, in which three definitions are given for a mystery word, only one of which is the actual meaning.

Thank you, Program Underwriters!

Private support accounts for the largest single source of funds necessary to make Illinois Public Media and the WILL stations great resources for communities across central Illinois.
