What’s behind our most elusive emotion? 9 pm June 2
Pulling together!

By Danda Beard, Director of Development

When the WILL stations experienced serious financial shortfalls that necessitated program cuts a few years ago, we heard from numerous Friends of WILL that we should have been more upfront with information about our financial position.

So there is some urgency in my letting you know that we are more than $60,000 behind our fundraising targets this year, in large part because our February and April WILL Radio fund drives fell short. We’re asking for your financial contributions by June 30 to help us meet our budget goal for the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Already, a major donor has stepped forward with an amazing and generous challenge gift, the largest ever issued by an individual member of the Friends of WILL family. See page 2 for details on how you can participate in this June Jumpstart Challenge.

We’re also continuing the WILL-TV fund drive through June 8, and I invite you to learn about a few of those program highlights on page 3. And be sure to check out the inside back cover of this Patterns issue for an opportunity to help program four Friday evenings starting July 11. Your votes and funding support for your favorite programs in the categories of drama, documentaries, the arts and local productions will ensure the newest offerings in each of these areas are on WILL-TV for everyone across central Illinois.

We are so grateful for the financial support of individuals and businesses, now 40 percent of our annual revenue. We are seeing increased support from Friends of WILL who have chosen to become Sustainer members. More of our Friends are joining us for events, including a sold-out Says You taping last month and a luncheon with Garrison Keillor when the Prairie Home Companion host visited our community as part of his book tour. Our program partners know and love WILL audiences!

Many public media fans are joining our WILL Travel opportunities. In fact, this year’s garden tour to P. Allen Smith’s Arkansas home and our Scotland/England trip are sold out, but you can still join us for the 2014 History Train Tour. Details are on page 2.

We appreciate our partnership with the Friends of WILL even more as we celebrate the 40th anniversary of this special group in 2014. Please help honor the vision of this private support partnership by considering an additional gift to help ensure that public media is part of our legacy for future generations. Thank you!
Uncovering the sources of true contentment

Does money make you happy? Kids and family? Your work? Do you live in a world that values and promotes happiness and well-being? The film, Happy, which has its television premiere at 9 pm Monday, June 2, on WILL-TV, sets out to answer these questions and more. It’s part of our June pledge drive programming.

The newest film from Academy Award-nominated director Roko Belic (Genghis Blues) takes us from the bayous of Louisiana to the deserts of Namibia, from the beaches of Brazil to the villages of Okinawa to explore the secrets behind our most valued emotion. It combines real life stories of people from around the world and powerful interviews with leading scientists in happiness research, including Ed Diener, a University of Illinois emeritus professor of psychology. It also features the work of Richard J. Davidson, professor of psychology and psychiatry at the University of Wisconsin–Madison, and founder/chair of the Center for Investigating Healthy Minds at the Waisman Center; Daniel Gilbert, professor of psychology at Harvard University; and Sonja Lyubomirsky, professor of psychology at the University of California, Riverside.

As part of their research, these experts look at the building blocks of a life that’s not just free of illness, but one that flourishes with a deep and genuine happiness. As modern science begins to examine more fully how happiness works, research has shown that many of the common pursuits—money, fame, status—don’t lead to the desired result.

Happy also examines preconceived notions about the causes and sources of happiness. A rickshaw driver in the slums of Kolkata living in a hut made of plastic bags is found to be as happy as the average American. A woman who is disfigured and disabled from a car accident is happier than she was before the accident. Through these and other inspiring stories, Happy leads us toward a deeper understanding of how our sense of well-being and happiness can be cultivated, learned and shared regardless of circumstance and external conditions.
Join the June

Jumpstart Challenge!

Generous WILL donors in Urbana are asking for your help on behalf of WILL Radio June 2.

Though this couple prefers to remain anonymous, they want to help WILL make up some of the funding shortfall from our two most recent pledge drives. In total, these drives came up $60,000 short of our critical fundraising goals.

Take the WILL History Train to colonial history sites

Join us Oct. 3-12 on a rail journey to learn about colonial history in Boston, Washington D.C., Philadelphia, Mt. Vernon and Valley Forge.

Travel on private restored train cars from the 1950s with tour guide Joe Luka, a train enthusiast who has traveled on all of Amtrak’s routes and ridden the rails in Canada and Europe. Also joining the tour are Bob and Beth Culkeen; Bob is station manager for WILL Radio and TV. Aboard the train, enjoy fine dining, premium beverages and sleeper accommodations. Sightseeing at historic sites, museums and battlefields is included.

In Boston, our WILL travelers will visit Old Ironsides and Bunker Hill, the Freedom Trail and the Old North Church before taking a brief walk to the North End to see Paul Revere’s house. We’ll walk into Beacon Hill with its gas-lit street lamps, brick walks and old hitching posts, and then visit the countryside towns of Lexington and Concord with the Old North Bridge, site of the “shot heard ’round the world.”

Near Washington, D.C., we’ll visit George Washington’s Mt. Vernon home overlooking the Potomac River before heading to Philadelphia, where we’ll see Independence Hall, the Liberty Bell and other sites before going on to Valley Forge. Before starting our trip home, we’ll return to D.C. for a free day of museums or sightseeing.

See the full itinerary at will.illinois.edu/willtravel. For more information, call Danda Beard at 217-333-7300. To make your reservation, call Judy McElfresh at TourGroupPlanners (217-422-5002 or toll-free 877-386-4777).
The donors came to us recently with a proposal to contribute $2 for every $1 we raise from 6 am to 7 pm Monday, June 2—up to a maximum of $20,000—through phone calls to 217-244-9455 or online.

That means they will donate an additional $40,000 if we raise $20,000 on that date—representing the biggest single matching donation in the history of our stations! We hope you’ll take these donors up on their generous offer that we’ve named the June Jumpstart Challenge.

It’s a very important boost to start the final fundraising month of our current fiscal year as we also continue our WILL-TV fundraising drive from June 1-8 in addition to the WILL Radio drive from June 2-4.

For more information or to make your gift now, go to will.illinois.edu/JuneJumpstart.

Thanks!

Mark your ballot for your favorite WILL-TV programs. See the inside back cover.

As master of the “The Twist,” Chubby Checker hosts his first My Music special, 50s and 60s Party Songs at 7 pm Tuesday, June 3. This show presents the original performances that had American teens dancing, including the music of Aretha Franklin, Little Richard, The Kingsmen, Tommy James and The Shondells, and many more.

Then at 7 pm Wednesday, June 4, state-of-the-art technology and sophisticated camera techniques allow you to see the world from a bird’s-eye view. Soar across six continents to witness natural wonders and interact with life-and-death dramas on land and at sea with Earthflight, a special presentation of Nature.

And at 8 pm Saturday, June 7, don’t miss Getting Sam Home, a 90-minute Last of the Summer Wine episode never before seen on WILL-TV. Find out if Sam’s friends help fulfill his wish to see his old flame, Lily Bless Her, one last time.

Update on the future of Focus

By Scott Cameron,
News and Public Affairs Director

In recent months, we’ve created a model for what our local, morning call-in show will look and sound like when we re-launch the program early next year. Last month, we let you know that we’re searching for a host to build on that vision. As that search continues, we’re also now looking for a strong producer to complete our team. Together, they will form the core of our new talk programming staff. In the meantime, we’ve ended our Friday Focus shows until that team is in place. Our reporting staff is again at full strength, and doing the kinds of award-winning stories that you expect. That commitment to great local reporting and storytelling carries over to our call-in talk show … which will return, as planned, in early 2015. Our Monday through Thursday 10 am program, NPR’s Tell Me More, now also airs at 10 am Fridays.

Classic Mornings is in the blogosphere

To add to your enjoyment of WILL-FM’s Classic Mornings with Vic Di Geronimo, Vic now has a blog. He hopes you find “something to learn and something to chuckle about” in each post, which you’ll find at will.illinois.edu/classicmornings. Enjoy!

More chamber music on Sunday evenings

WILL-FM is adding the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival series to The Evening Concert at 8 pm Sundays, June 1 through August 24. See page 5 for performance details.

The radio series features performances recorded in 2013 during the music festival’s 41st summer season. Each broadcast hour typically contains two full-length works representing chamber music’s core repertoire. The Festival also remains dedicated to lesser known composers and compositions, and to commissioning new works.

Veteran WFMT announcer Kerry Frumkin hosts the series along with Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival artistic director, Marc Neikrug. Many of the performers provide additional commentary as they describe their experiences at the Festival and their music performances.

From war hero to senator

John Glenn: A Life of Service (9 pm Wednesday, June 18) uses archival footage and interviews with Glenn (at right), lawmakers, journalists and historians, to look back at his incredible career. From being a war pilot to the first American to orbit the Earth to his days in the Senate—and at 77 years of age becoming the oldest person to go into space—this documentary revisits the pivotal moments when Glenn put country before self.

Burns focuses on the Roosevelts

At 7 pm Tuesday, June 17, get a preview of Ken Burns’ upcoming seven-part series, The Roosevelts: An Intimate History, coming to PBS Sept. 14-20. This forward look at the documentary, chronicling the lives of Theodore, Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt (at right), features clips from the series, along with interviews and behind-the-scenes material.

Journey below England’s capital city

Secrets of Underground London uncovers 2,000 years of the city’s subterranean history: a world of ancient caves and perfectly preserved Roman remains; mysterious rivers and gruesome plague pits; impenetrable vaults and top-secret bunkers. The program airs at 7 pm Sunday, June 22.

THE suspense is building

David Tennant (Doctor Who) stars as a defense lawyer with a perfect record of courtroom wins and a perfect family to go with it—until things go horribly wrong. Written by thriller master David Wolstencroft (MI-5), The Escape Artist airs on Masterpiece Mystery! in two suspense-filled episodes at 8 pm on Sundays, June 15 and 22. Sophie Okonedo (Hotel Rwanda) co-stars as Tennant’s professional nemesis, with Ashley Jensen ( Extras) as the hero’s endearing wife. And the second season of Masterpiece’s Endeavor begins at 8 pm June 29 with the first of four parts.
Over 10 weeks during the summer of 1964, more than 700 student volunteers joined with organizers and local African Americans in Mississippi to promote racial equality in the nation’s most segregated state. American Experience: Freedom Summer (8 pm Tuesday, June 24) tells the stories of the campaign and its deadly violence.

Young bohemians in Paris
An exciting young cast stars in Franco Zeffirelli’s lavish production of Giacomo Puccini’s La Bohème, the most-performed opera in Met history. Italian star tenor Vittorio Grigolo is the passionate poet Rodolfo and soprano Kristine Opolais his fragile lover, Mimi, in the Great Performances at the Met program at 8 pm Friday, June 27. Susanna Phillips sings the flirtatious Musetta and Massimo Cavalletti is the painter Marcello, led by Italian conductor Stefano Ranzani.

After being diagnosed with multiple sclerosis at the age of 25, Jason DaSilva (above) used his love of filmmaking to document his body’s decline. The result is When I Walk, a documentary filled with humor and joy, driven by a young man’s determination to make sense of a devastating disease, by using the art of cinema. The film, an official selection of the 2013 Sundance Film Festival, airs at 9 pm Monday, June 23.

Even though Michael Palin has traveled the world for 25 years, he had never visited Brazil. His new four-part documentary, Brazil with Michael Palin, goes in-depth to regions of the fifth largest country on Earth, focusing on its abundance of resources and melting pot of peoples. It’s a nation that’s risen to become a 21st century superpower and is next in line to host both the World Cup and Olympic Games. The series airs at 8 and 9 pm Monday and Tuesday, June 9 and 10.

Vicious tells the story of partners Freddie (Ian McKellen), above left, and Stuart (Derek Jacobi), who have lived together in a small central London flat for nearly 50 years. Freddie and Stuart are always at each other’s throats, cracking snide remarks aimed at the other’s age, appearance and flaws—but underneath their vicious, co-dependent fighting, they have a deep love for one another. Freddie and Stuart are often joined by feisty best friend Violet, above center, (Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows) and Ash (Game of Thrones), their young, upstairs neighbor. The six-part series premieres at 9:30 pm Sunday, June 29.

Last Tango in Halifax (7 pm Sunday, June 29), an award-winning comedy-drama about romance and second chances, returns for a second season as the reunited childhood sweethearts Celia (Anne Reid) and Alan (Derek Jacobi) plan a life together. As secrets from the past come tumbling out and family members adjust to changing relationships, can Alan and Celia find the long-awaited happiness they deserve?
Illinois Public Media took top honors in two different broadcast journalism contests this spring. WILL Radio was named the outstanding news operation in the downstate radio division of the Illinois Associated Press broadcast awards, and won three regional Edward R. Murrow Awards for its 2013 news coverage.

The Radio Television Digital News Association’s Murrow Awards honored the WILL newsroom’s breaking news coverage of the Nov. 17, 2013, Gifford tornado, including news reports by Sean Powers and a Focus program produced by Lindsey Moon and hosted by Jim Meadows.

Sean won in the hard news feature category for his story on how the Affordable Care Act may lower incarceration and recidivism rates. In addition, WILL contributor Cheryl Silver, a reporter for CU-CitizenAccess, won in the best investigative feature category for a story produced in cooperation with WILL on the resurgence of meth in central Illinois. CU-CitizenAccess is a project of the Journalism Department of the University of Illinois College of Media. Each of the three entries will go on to compete for national Murrow Awards.

“This is another recognition of the hard work and vision of the news team and lays the groundwork for another year of great storytelling,” said Scott Cameron, Illinois Public Media director of news and public affairs. “This year’s work already includes reports on mental health, pension reform, Medicaid and other important issues.”

In the Illinois Associated Press Broadcasters Association Journalism Excellence Contest, WILL’s winning entry in the outstanding news operation category included stories about the Gifford tornado, the state’s pension crisis, health care exchanges, and how the new health care law could help keep former inmates from returning to prison. Also included in the entry were a Focus program remembering Roger Ebert, an In My Backyard (now Backyard Industry) segment, “For the Clove of Garlic,” and newscast coverage of the death of Nelson Mandela, including archival tape of Mandela’s daughter Maki during her visit to Urbana.

A radio feature by Sean Powers about the Polar Express rolling into Monticello won two first place awards in the AP contest. His report was named the top story in the categories of Best Light Feature and Best Use of Sound. The AP awards were presented Saturday, April 12, at the Illinois News Broadcasters Association spring meeting in Peoria.
Starting Monday, June 2, the WILL-TV weekday kids schedule features back-to-back episodes of many of the PBS KIDS favorites, including Daniel Tiger’s Neighborhood, Curious George, Arthur and Dinosaur Train. Be sure to check out the new schedule on page 9 and get the kids ready for summer learning adventures!

The New Black closes out Community Cinema season

Our June 3 film tells the story of how African American communities are grappling with LGBT rights issues in light of the recent same-sex marriage movement and the fight over civil rights. The film documents activists, families and clergy on both sides of the campaign to legalize same-sex marriage while it examines homophobia in the black church. It also reveals the strategy of some Christian activist groups of exploiting this phenomenon in order to pursue a political agenda that opposes LGBT rights.

Threaded throughout the film is the story of the historic fight to legalize same-sex marriage in Maryland—Question 6 on the ballot in the 2012 election.

In the Maryland election, the LGBT community labors under the shadow of the passage of California’s Proposition 8, denying same-sex marriage rights in that state. Although the role of black voters in the passage of Proposition 8 has been debunked, some LGBT rights advocates nevertheless have learned to reach out to black communities whose members don’t necessarily see LGBT rights as a civil rights issue.

Commentary from clergy provides the church’s perspective on both sides of this divisive issue and puts it into the historical context of slavery and its degrading effects on the black family. A look behind the scenes reveals that LGBT members play significant roles in the church and that many families are grappling with the fact that some of their loved ones are gay.

Our free screening and community discussion of The New Black will take place at 7 pm Tuesday, June 3, at the Spurlock Museum, 600 S. Gregory St., Urbana. Free parking is available in U of I lot D22 next to the museum. Confirmed discussion panelists are Kevin Mumford, professor, University of Illinois Department of History; and Carla Hunter, assistant professor, U of I Department of Psychology. The film then airs on WILL-TV at 9:30 pm Sunday, June 15.

Country Financial provides support for Illinois Lawmakers

In addition to being the longest-running television series to offer continuing coverage of the Illinois General Assembly, Illinois Lawmakers is a model of public media collaboration throughout the state. The program is produced by Illinois Public Media, WSIU-TV Carbondale and WTVP-TV Peoria.

Launched in 1986, the program provides in-depth coverage and analysis of the General Assembly by veteran Statehouse reporters, along with news features and interviews with leading lawmakers from both sides of the aisle.

Now Country Financial, headquartered in Bloomington, has chosen to financially support the program.

“At Country Financial, we truly believe in strengthening neighborhoods where we live and serve, so we are proud to support public television in building an informed and connected community,” said Randall Lorimor, Country’s manager of advertising, content and compliance. “Country Financial has supported public programming for many years. We are proud to partner with public television as it provides educational and inspiring content, serving as a window to the rest of the world. One great example is Illinois Lawmakers, a show that provides insight that can’t be found anywhere else. We support public television because want to see it continue to flourish.”

Illinois Lawmakers is broadcast during the General Assembly’s spring session and fall veto session. Hosted by WSIU-TV’s Jak Tichenor, the series also provides live coverage and legislative reaction to the Governor’s State of the State and Budget Message speeches.

Kudos to new Program Underwriters for their support

Our individual Friends of WILL—other members like you who help financially support Illinois Public Media and the WILL stations—are joined by hundreds of businesses and organizations who also lend their support.

Each year, many businesses join us for the first time or come back after some time away from their support. We send a special shout out to these businesses for their partnership in supporting public media in central Illinois.

If you own or manage a business and would like to lend your support to WILL AM, FM or TV, please contact Corporate Support Director Les Schulte at lschulte@illinois.edu or at 217-333-9394.
