May 2020 Volume XLVII, Number 11

I never imagined a time when virtually all of WILL's work could be managed from home, or that we would need to scramble in order to make sure all of WILL's employees have a safe and productive place to work away from Campbell Hall. But, we've done it.

Brian Moline, host of Morning Edition on WILL-AM, and later Vic DiGeronimo host of Classic Mornings, are coming to you live each morning. Our midday talk program The 21st is broadcast live at 11 am, with in-depth stories on the coronavirus outbreak as it relates to our state, and more specifically to central Illinois. In fact, each Monday on The 21st, you'll hear from reporters at each of our partner stations around the state, giving you a state-wide perspective. Our reporters fashioned "studios" from closets and bedrooms in an effort to bring you measured, fact-based news that sounds good, no matter where it's been recorded.

News Director Reginald Hardwick and TV Production Manager DJ Roach have created a one minute news update that runs just after the 6 pm weeknight PBS Newshour. Senior TV Producer Sarah Edwards is in her home studio talking with local residents to document our community's experience during these times.

Our Education department has curated a new lineup of programs to serve children who are learning at home, and volunteers for the Illinois Radio Reader are creating their programs at home, as well. When you call the Membership Hotline these days, one of our staff will answer from home. Thanks for all your gifts to WILL that keep this good work happening.

Midsomer Murders joins Thursday night of mystery

WILL-TV has added a new murder mystery show to the Thursday night line up. Midsomer Murders, the hit series, has aired in Great Britain for over 20 years.

Now, WILL-TV introduces the series to viewers, starting with season 13. DCI Tom Barnaby (John Nettles) and his assistant Ben Jones (Jason Hughes) continue to investigate terrible murders and dastardly deeds that befall the picturesque county of Midsomer.

Behind the well-trimmed hedges and net curtains, secrets hide and dangers lurk, and it's up to Barnaby and Jones to unpack the mysteries before disaster strikes again.

The show will air at 8 pm, followed by a new season of Father Brown, starting Thursday, May 7.

Father Brown returns

Everyone's favorite crime-solving priest returns for more murder and intrigue in season 8 of Father Brown. "This eighth series promises to keep viewers enthralled with ten new whodunits to solve. Set against the backdrop of the stunning Cotswolds countryside these gloriously nostalgic episodes are full of drama, warmth, and humour and feature a fantastic roster of familiar faces returning to Kembleford along with a wealth of brilliant guest appearances," says Peter Bullock, BBC producer. The new season starts at 9 pm Thursday, May 7.

Reel Midwest presents Sustainable

Sustainable is a film about the land, the people who work it, and what must be done to sustain it for future generations. A vital investigation of the economic and environmental instability of America's food system, from the agricultural issues we face—soil loss, water depletion, climate change, pesticide use—to the community of leaders who are determined to fix it.

The narrative of the film focuses on Marty Travis, a seventh-generation farmer in central Illinois. Determined to create a proud legacy for his son, Marty transforms his profitless wasteland and pioneers the sustainable food movement in Chicago. The film airs at 7:30 pm Thursday, May 28 as part of Illinois Public Media's Reel Midwest documentary series.

Our 43rd president

American Experience

explores the fascinating life and tumultuous presidency of George W. Bush in a new two-part biography of the 43rd US president. The documentary features insights from historians, journalists, and members of the president's inner circle, including chiefs of staff Andy Card and Joshua Bolten, speechwriter David Frum, press secretary Ari Fleischer, senior advisor Karl Rove, and others. George W. Bush airs at 8 pm Monday-Tuesday, May 4-5.

The women who made country music

Iconic Women of Country opens up the music vaults to provide an intimate look at legendary female artists, their stories and songs, and why they've stood the test of time. A love letter to the women of Nashville, the program pays tribute to 15 icons of country music—Dolly Parton (top left), Tammy Wynette (bottom left), Loretta Lynn, Patsy Cline, Brenda Lee and more—with heartfelt performances from ten contemporary artists, including Trisha Yearwood, Wynonna Judd and Kathy Mattea. The special airs at 7 pm , Sunday, May 31.

Shaped by war

Princess Elizabeth was a child of thirteen on September 3, 1939, when her father King George VI informed the people that Britain was at war. Later, the Queen's experiences during WWII would be a defining moment in her historic rein. The Queen at War airs at 7 pm Tuesday, May 5.

The Queen's personal experiences during the war reflected the wider experiences of the public. She too was evacuated and her home bombed; she lost a family member, and she volunteered in service to the war effort. Hear from people who were with her, as well as from historians, journalists and royal commentators as they reveal how these years were so formative for Elizabeth and how, in many ways, it led to the Queen we know today. And extraordinary archival footage will bring the Queen's war to life, showing us what it was really like to experience the Blitz from inside Buckingham Palace, and demonstrating the role the Queen had in inspiring her entire nation.

In His Own Words

Created Equal: Clarence Thomas in His Own Words is a new film tracing the life story of the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court at 8 pm Monday, May 18. The film is the product of over 30 hours of interviews with Justice Thomas and his wife Virginia, containing unprecedented access from a Supreme Court justice. See this rare look into the life and perspective of Justice Thomas as he discusses his life, legacy, and legal theories.

What it means to be American

Led by a team of Asian American filmmakers, Asian Americans examines the significant role of Asian Americans in shaping American history and identity, from the first wave of Asian immigrants in the 1850s and identity politics during the social and cultural turmoil of the twentieth century to modern refugee crises in a globally connected world.

The five-part series examines the fastest growing racial/ethnic group in the United States. Told through individual lives and personal histories, Asian Americans explores the impact of this group on the country's past, present, and future. The series airs at 8 pm Monday-Tuesday, May 11-12.

A life on film

For as long as Sasha Neulinger can remember, a video camera was ever-present, with his father constantly filming—from birthday parties, to hockey games, to holidays. But his father's camera, trained on the frequent gatherings of a tight-knit family, was also documenting a hidden secret, the revelation of which would lead to a media firestorm, a high-stakes court battle, and a generational reckoning. Drawing upon an incredibly revealing home video archive, Neulinger revisits these events 20 years later to piece together an unflinching story of the cycles and consequences of abuse, to examine what it means to heal, and to use those experiences to effect positive change in the world. Rewind by Independent Lens airs at 9 pm Monday, May 11 and probes the gap between image and reality, showing both how little, and how much, a camera can capture.

On pledge drive days with this symbol, program start and end times may vary.

Illinois Public Media responds to COVID-19 pandemic

Illinois Public Media's vision is to see dynamic, thriving communities informed and inspired by public media. To achieve that vision, we have always sought out the needs of the communities we serve, and the COVID-19 pandemic is no exception. Every department at Illinois Public Media has exercised flexibility in their various workloads to make our COVID-19 response the top priority.

Throughout these three pages, read about the ways that we have adapted to provide for the community while also ensuring the safety of our staff and continuing to provide the excellent services that you rely on daily. Special thanks to our operations, engineering, broadcast traffic, and digital infrastructure personnel that rotate to be in the building in order to keep everything functioning behind the scenes.

Illinois Newsroom spearheads the COVID-19 information center

The goal of the Illinois Newsroom, powered by WILL and Illinois Public Media, is to inform, connect, and empower our audience. It starts with the Coronavirus Information Center, constantly on the front pages of will.illinois.edu and IllinoisNewsroom.org. The Center has the latest local and state news regarding the pandemic, including an interactive map showing the number of confirmed COVID-19 cases in every county in Illinois.

Education reporter Lee Gaines featured stories about parents of special needs students struggling with a lack of resources at home. Health reporter

Christine Herman talked with doctors as they prepared for the onslaught of cases. Agriculture reporter Dana Cronin focused on how stay-at-home orders could impact farmers markets and farmers revenues this year. Senior reporter Jim Meadows tracked new cases county by county in our area.

And Monday-Thursday at 11 am on WILL-AM 580, The 21st talk show is holding calm conversations about the pandemic. New host Brian Mackey talked with Illinois EMTs in New York City to help with the situation there as well as a high school chorus that held a virtual concert.

Additionally, we have begun one-minute news capsules that air Monday-Friday at 6:58 pm at the end of PBS NewsHour with the latest information on the coronavirus disease stats and response.

Membership and Development continue to meet Friends' needs

In Membership and Development, we are all working full-time from home, where we can take phone calls and assist Friends with Passport; check on membership accounts; write, email, and create advertising and marketing designs; edit Patterns; and talk on the phone. We are making lots of phone calls as we adjust to the logistics of this new work environment! We're missing a few supplies but we're coping fairly well.

Please note: During this time, it's much more efficient for us to receive online gifts via credit card, rather than sending a check to our Goodwin Avenue address. You can make a gift to WILL, anytime, at willgive.org. Feel free to reach out to us by phone at 1-800-898-1065 or send an email to WILL-Membership@mx.uillinois.edu. Thanks to each and every Friend of WILL who is making gifts to keep valuable services such as our content creation and broadcasting services available.

Illinois Radio Reader volunteers keep service running

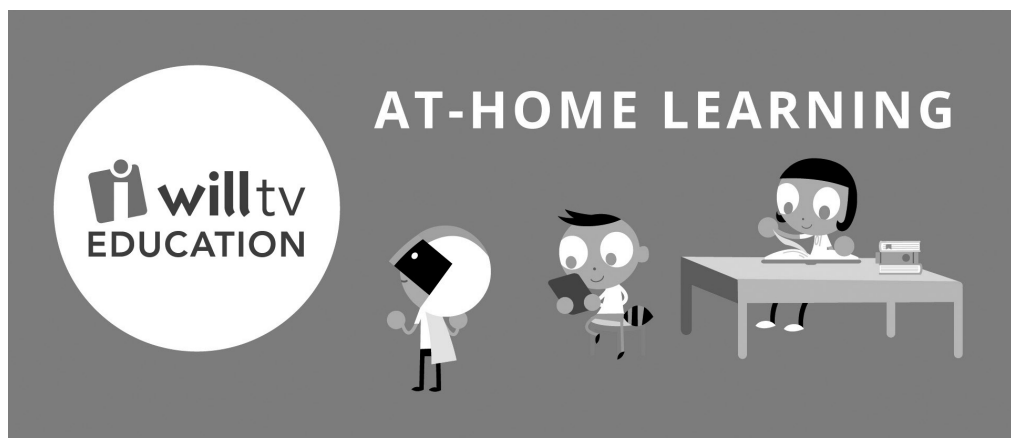

For many people who are reading-impaired, the Illinois Radio Reader provides a vital connection to the communities of central Illinois. When the shelter-in-place order was issued, it would have been easy to turn on satellite programming and nix the regional content listeners have depended upon for 42 years. But Independent Radio Reader Coordinator Kathie Spegal and her 40 plus volunteers didn't even consider it. Spegal acted quickly, transitioning her volunteers from reading local newspapers at WILL to making recordings at home using software on their smartphones and home computers. Within a week, readings of local newspapers resumed. And most volunteers, under Spegal's guidance, developed new technical skills in the process. "I am so grateful for the dedicated volunteers who are willing to tackle new technology to keep our listeners tuned into their community," Spegal said.

The volunteers look forward to the day when they can return to WILL, as they miss each other, even as they continue to meet the needs of Illinois Radio Reader's listeners.

WILL's Education Department adds new content and services

How do we support the learning needs of families with young children while schools are closed throughout our coverage area? By showing families that PBS KIDS is the number one educational brand for children's television!

Our Education Department added a new PBS KIDS program line up to our WILL-TV (channel 12.1) broadcast schedule to help caregivers and families who are now tasked with home schooling their children. We offer blocks of shows that support children's social-emotional, science, art, math, social studies, engineering, language arts, and history learning in grades PreK-5 during our typical kids daytime programming. By adding this new program line up, we are directly supporting the learning needs of families who have televisions but no access to broadband internet at home. See page 9 for the new daily WILL-TV schedule.

For those with access to internet, we added new digital resources including links to apps, games, and printables to help caregivers easily find support in academic subjects of interest. Local school districts helped spread the word by adding links to our schedule and at-home learning resources to their district websites.

Teachers, we are thinking of you, too! Illinois Edition of PBS Learning Media (illinois.pbslearningmedia.org) is now featuring special collections of resources to support your distance learning efforts with your students from preschool through grade 12. And #PBSTeachersChat on Twitter is a great way to connect with your peers. For the latest resources for parents and teachers, visit the WILL Education blog at will.illinois.edu/education/blog.

Thank you, Program Underwriters!

Private support accounts for the largest single source of funds necessary to make Illinois Public Media and the WILL stations great resources for communities across central Illinois.
