PATTERNS • OCTOBER 2017

patterns

october 2017 Volume XLV, Number 4

This month's issue of Patterns is a wonderful highlight of Illinois Public Media's great outreach into our community, one of our best accomplishments.

On page 17, read about the new radio documentary produced right here at WILL: Still Here: Vietnam War Stories from Illinois. This production does just what local public media should do—it takes features from our national TV and radio broadcasts and focuses the story right here in our area.

Then on pages 18-19, see a photo history of the great work our community content and engagement did this past summer.

Page 20 invites you to join us for Wake Up with WILL, where you can hear first-hand the latest projects under development at Illinois Public Media. Over the next 3 months, 3 of our directors will show how you can be involved in the day-to-day ongoings of public media.

And finally, we encourage you to get your nerd on for WILL. Read more about it on the right, and be sure to tune in to radio and TV fund drives to let your nerd flag fly!

Your favorites return for fall

Powerful lineage

Finding Your Roots returns for its fourth season at 7 pm Tuesdays this month. Join Henry Louis Gates, Jr. as he explores the genealogy of popular figures. In this season, comedian Larry David and politician Bernie Sanders discover they have more in common than they thought, tracing their roots back to Jewish communities in Eastern Europe. Comedic performers Garrison Keillor, Amy Schumer, and Aziz Ansari learn contrasting stories of assimilation and independence all over the globe. Actors Fred Armisen and Christopher Walken and musician Carly Simon each learn about a grandparent whose real identity and background had been a mystery to them. Author Ta-Nehisi Coates, filmmaker Ava DuVernay, and author and activist Janet Mock see their basic assumptions about their families challenged, placing their ancestors—of all colors—into the greater context of black history.

While the premise of the show remains the same season after season, the surprises continue as Gates, Jr. unburies the past for these celebrities.

Travel to la dolce vita

PBS presents Rick Steves' Heart of Italy at 6 pm Sunday, October 1. In this exciting special, join Rick Steves as he delves deep into the Italian heartland—the place where “la dolce vita” is a way of life.

Starting in Umbria, we connect with rustic, traditional culture: sleeping at an agriturismo (farmhouse inn), seeing how prosciutto and pecorino cheese are made (and eaten), and hiking down into ancient and fragrant wine cellars. Then we visit Assisi, with its inspirational story of St. Francis, stop-and-smell-God's-roses spirituality, delicate Giotto masterpieces, and awe-inspiring basilica. In Siena, we enjoy a front-row seat at its wild horse race—the venerable Palio—and marvel at cultural treasures from the city's glory days, when it rivaled Florence for dominance in Tuscany.

We finish with the ultimate Riviera getaway: the Cinque Terre, where we get to know each of the “five lands”—from dramatic, vineyard-surrounded Vernazza to hardscrabble Riomaggiore to the pint-sized resort of Monterosso. Fishing for anchovies, sipping wine out of rustic barrels, bringing flowers to hilltop cemeteries, and savoring twinkling Mediterranean vistas, we enjoy Rick's favorite stretch of Mediterranean coastline.

From hill towns to harbors, and from vino rosso to Giotto, Rick Steves' Heart of Italy savors the good life in the Italian heartland.

The reign of terror

Does George Warleggan finally have the upper hand against his archenemy, Ross Poldark? Can George's growing power in Cornwall cement his control over the fate of his populist foe? Dream on!

Masterpiece Classic presents the latest thrilling exploits of Ross Poldark and his fiery partner, Demelza, starring Aidan Turner and Eleanor Tomlinson as the intrepid 18th-century duo, on Poldark, Season 3, airing in eight action-packed episodes at 8 pm Sundays. The new season costars Jack Farthing as the dastardly George and Heida Reed as his bewitching wife, Elizabeth, now estranged from her first love, Ross—or is she? Also returning are Caroline Blakiston as Ross's crusty Aunt Agatha, whose passion in life is tormenting George; Beatie Edney as the irascible servant Prudie; Luke Norris as stalwart Dr. Dwight Enys; and Gabriella Wilde as Dwight's secret fiancée, the fetching heiress Caroline Penvenen.

with Robert Siegel, Audie Cornish, Kelly McEvers, and Ari Shapiro

The month of October marks the start of the last quarter of 2017. It's also the beginning of the new home for The New York Philharmonic This Week, Monday nights at 7 pm starting October 2. This move from Thursdays to Mondays gives us a little more time between the release of the episodes and the broadcast day. That way we can make any necessary corrections to pre-broadcast announcements for greater accuracy in publicizing these concerts.

We'll also be starting a couple of new quarterly-length series: The Cleveland Orchestra, Wednesday nights at 7 pm and the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, Thursday nights at 7 pm. The Chicago Symphony Orchestra is always heard on Tuesday evenings, with the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center on Sunday evenings, followed (usually) by more chamber music. For the last quarter 2017 that will be the repeat of the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival.

The series presented on the Evening Concert are scheduled by Vincent Trauth. He can be reached at vtrauth@illinois.edu.

Thanks for listening and for your financial support of WILL-FM and Illinois Public Media.

The POV film Motherland is an absorbingly intimate, vérité look at the busiest maternity hospital on the planet, in one of the world's most populous countries: the Philippines. Airing at 9 pm Monday, October 16, the documentary features women sharing their stories with other mothers, their families, doctors, and social workers. In a hospital that is literally bursting with life, we witness the miracle and wonder of the human condition.

The motherload

The creator of detective fiction

After his death, writer Edgar Allan Poe (1809-1849) became a global icon of modern literature and a pop culture brand. Best known for his Gothic horror tales and narrative poem “The Raven,” Poe’s stories are the basis of countless films and TV episodes, and have inspired even more, as has his name and image. Creating the detective fiction genre with “The Murders in the Rue Morgue” (1841), Poe wrote over 100 short stories and poems altogether, beginning with Tamerlane and Other Poems (1827), his first published work.

Written and directed by Eric Stange, the new documentary American Masters—Edgar Allan Poe: Buried Alive draws on the rich palette of Poe’s evocative imagery and sharply drawn plots to tell the real story of the notorious author. The film premieres at 8 pm Monday, October 30.

Sports transcending disabilities

Lara Stolman’s inspiring debut documentary, Swim Team, follows three diverse young men—Michael McQuay Jr., Robert Justino and Kelvin Truong—from Perth Amboy, New Jersey, who fall on the autism spectrum. As part of the Jersey Hammerheads, these young men find inclusion, independence and space to achieve their loftiest goals. “When I’m swimming,” says Michael McQuay Jr., “I feel normal.”

A POV film airing at 9 pm Monday, October 2, Swim Team follows as the Jersey Hammerheads rack up medals and eventually make it to the state Summer Games at the Special Olympics, while also capturing the hopes and frustrations of the swimmers’ parents.

A couture fashion house in post-war Paris serves as the setting for The Collection, a new Masterpiece Classic series beginning at 9 pm Sunday, October 8. This 7-part drama uncovers the gritty truth behind the glamour of a rising business, spearheaded by two clashing brothers. The atelier staff survived the war, but now they face rivalries, romances, and scandal in the fashion capital of the world.

The drama of the dress

The original modern family

Hailed as “miraculous” by The New York Times, Falsettos, the seminal 1992 Broadway musical about a gay man striving to create a modern family, will be featured on Live From Lincoln Center at 8 pm Friday, October 27.

The revival stars two-time Tony Award-winner Christian Borle as Marvin, who leaves his wife and son for man, along with Tony nominees Stephanie J. Block and Andrew Rannells, as his ex-wife and lover, respectively. Anthony Rosenthal, Tracie Thoms, Brandon Uranowitz, and Betsy Wolfe round out the cast.

Return to Greece

Keeley Hawes returns as Louisa Durrell In The Durrells in Corfu on Masterpiece Classic at 7 pm Sunday, October 15. The second season continues to chronicle Louisa and her four children’s adventures with the island’s townspeople, customs, and wildlife in the acclaimed series called “irresistible” (The Wall Street Journal) and “gorgeous” (USA Today).

Illinois Public Media presents Still Here: Vietnam War Stories from Illinois

Still Here: Vietnam War Stories from Illinois is a haunting new documentary that provides self-reflections of the Vietnam War from the personal stories of Illinois residents who fought it and opposed it and those who were displaced because of it. The program airs at 3 pm Saturday, October 21 and 5 pm Sunday, October 29 on WILL-AM 580.

“The realities of the Vietnam War, and war in general, are revealed in the multiple perspectives of those who shared their stories with us,” said Kimberlie Kranich, series co-producer and director of community content & engagement. “These are the perspectives of your friends and neighbors many of whom still find it difficult to talk about.”

John Fecile, co-producer adds, “Whether they’re dealing with the effects of PTSD or Agent Orange, or if they’re the children of refugees, soldiers who took life, or if they’re present-day activists who have inherited both the culture and tactics of the anti-Vietnam War movement, they’re your friends and neighbors, not photos in some textbook.”

The documentary features Donald Hyche, a Marine helicopter gunner; Connie Edwards, an Army officer nurse; Jerome Wiese, a Army combat medic; Dick Hertle, a personnel clerk; Bon Bui, a Vietnamese commander and POW; Ut Ha, a Vietnamese civilian, Terry Hairrell, an Army combat infantryman and Timothy Kendall, a draft resister.

“Every war hurts people in many deep and invisible ways,” Kranich said. “It is our hope that you’ll get to know and care about all of the people in our documentary, regardless of their perspective.”

To learn more about the lives of the people featured in Still Here, as well as other Illinois veterans and civilians or to listen again, visit again after the broadcast, visit: will.illinois.edu.

Illinois Public Media engages the community

On June 24, IPM participated in Martin Luther King Jettie Rhodes Neighborhood Day at King Park in Urbana, Illinois. The event provides free food and entertainment in honor of Mrs. Jettie Rhodes, an active member of the King neighborhood who was also very involved with the Urbana Park District and other local organizations.

IPM hosted a resource booth at this annual celebration where children were able to make PBS KIDS sun visors to keep cool. Our parent resource information included brochures on safe technology use with kids.

At the end of June, WILL presented with WQPT at the Illinois State New Teacher Conference to share the advantages of using PBS LearningMedia in the classroom. Teachers were introduced to this free resource that unites classrooms across the country and provides lesson plans and tools for a variety of subjects and grade levels.

WILL brings Design Squad to the Champaign Park District

IPM joined forces with the Champaign Park District this summer to present Design Squad-On the Moon. This 6-week program, held for the Leonhard Center teen group, was written in collaboration with NASA and included six activities that bring engineering and NASA's moon missions to life.

As one of the biggest employers of engineers in the world, NASA encourages the study of STEM activities for children nationwide. Through its partnership with PBS and Design Squad, these learning opportunities are brought to youth through the efforts of local public media stations.

Design Squad and its various activity guides is a free service provided by PBS KIDS and is made possible by the funding of generous donors.

▲ Champaign Park District's Leonhard Center teen group attempt to design and create a shock-absorbing system that will protect two "astronauts" (marshmallows) when they land.

Funding continues for IPM's Book Mentor Project

PNC Bank recently renewed grant funding for the Illinois Public Media Book Mentor Project. Begun in 2004, the Book Mentor Project brings 78 volunteers into early childhood classrooms throughout Champaign County. Volunteers come once a month to read and distribute copies of a book to children in Head Start programs and at Champaign Unit 4 Early Childhood. The program aims to increase the number of books in homes with young children and the number of minutes that parents read to them.

If you would like to volunteer for this program, please contact Project Manager Ana Olguin at 217-300-3741 or visit our website at will.illinois.edu/education/bookmentors.
