June 2024 Vol. XLIX, No. 12

In this month's issue, we celebrate 20 years of Classics of the Phonograph and the distinguished career of John Frayne. If you are a regular listener, you already know that John's knowledge and passion for classical music and historical recordings are unparalleled. But even if you listen to John's programs every week, I recommend you read Katie Buzard's incredibly enlightening article on page 19. We are so lucky that John has been an integral part of our classical programming for almost 40 years!

Later this month, we are excited to present "Won't You Be My Neighbor" at the Virginia Theatre as part of our ongoing Arthouse Experience Film Series partnership. I absolutely love this documentary, and if you haven't seen it yet, I cannot recommend it enough. Seeing it on the big screen with an audience full of Mister Rogers fans — young and old — will be such a wonderful experience. See page 20 for more information.

June also means the end of our fiscal year is quickly approaching, and as a forward funded organization, June 30 is our most important fundraising deadline of the year. As I write this, Illinois Public Media is about $250,000 short of our goal. The contributions we receive now pave the way for what we can accomplish over the next 12 months. So, if you are able to renew your donation or make an additional gift at willgive.org this month, we would truly appreciate it. Thanks for your continued support of all that we do!

Tom Brittney and Rishi Nair on the set of 'Grantchester.'

NEW SEASONS OF POPULAR DRAMAS PREMIERE JUNE 16

'Grantchester' welcomes new vicar

Season 9 of Grantchester on MASTERPIECE premieres at 8 pm Sunday, June 16. Fans may want time to adjust to the fact that this will be the last season for lead actor Tom Brittney. Brittney has played the much-loved character Rev. Will Davenport since 2019 and announced he was stepping back from his role to focus on new projects. But as one door closes, another one opens, and the village welcomes Rishi Nair as the charismatic vicar Alphyl Kotteram.

"I've had the most incredible time playing Will Davenport for the last five years," Brittney said. "I got to solve crimes with my best friend and work with the best cast and crew I could ever ask for. I'll miss it more than anything. But it's time for the baton to be passed, as it once was to me, and I'm so excited for Rishi to join the Grantchester family."

Popular police procedural drama returns

Season 2 of DI Ray premieres at 9 pm Sunday, June 16, with Leicester-born D.I. Rachita Ray investigating the murder of a high-profile criminal. Sensitive ethnic issues relating to the case ignite racial tensions, causing a personal conflict for Ray, both as a British Asian woman and as a police officer. She finds that she must fight to prevent a turf war erupting on the streets of Birmingham. Parminder Nagra returns in the title role in this police procedural that provides plenty of mystery and intrigue.

'Professor T' returns for season 3

Professor T returns for its third season, with Ben Miller reprising his role as the eccentric Cambridge criminal psychology professor, Jasper Tempest. The professor starts the season in prison. His neurological disorders, including OCD, make him complex and often difficult but seem to serve him well as an adviser for the local homicide department. However, these traits also make for a really difficult situation for him as he struggles to adjust to his hostile and dangerous new environment. Season 3 premieres at 7 pm Sunday, June 16. Fans will be pleased to hear the crime drama has been renewed for season 4.

The Metropolitan Opera presents a vital new production of Carmen, one of opera’s most enduringly powerful works. Acclaimed English director Carrie Cracknell makes her Met debut, reinvigorating the classic story with a staging that moves the action to the modern day and finds at the heart of the drama issues that could not be more relevant today: gendered violence, abusive labor structures, and the desire to break through societal boundaries.

Dazzling young mezzo-soprano Aigul Akhmetshina leads a powerhouse quartet of stars in the complex and volatile title role, alongside tenor Piotr Beczala as Carmen’s troubled lover Don Jose, soprano Angel Blue as the loyal Micaela, and bass-baritone Kyle Ketelsen as the swaggering Escamillo. Daniele Rustioni conducts Bizet’s heart-pounding score. This new production of Carmen premieres on Great Performances at the Met at 8 pm Friday, June 14.

The surprising, overlooked history of disco

From the sweaty basement bars of 1970’s New York to the glittering peak of the global charts, Disco: Soundtrack of a Revolution reveals how disco conquered the world: its origins, its triumphs, its fall, and its musical and cultural legacy. Told by the original musicians, promoters, and innovators — as well as modern-day musical icons — the series tells the definitive story of the people who forged a new form of music and dance and pioneered a social movement. The series revels in iconic disco tracks and remarkable archive footage, analyzing and exploring the anthemic songs and sound they established. Premiering with parts 1 and 2 at 7 pm Tuesday, June 4, the three-part docuseries will shine a light on disco’s groovy beginnings while revealing its surprising and overlooked history. The full series will then air Tuesdays at 7 pm beginning June 18 and concluding in July.

A one-of-a-kind concert experience with Chicago and friends

With over 100 million albums sold worldwide, the multi-Grammy Award-winning band Chicago has been hailed by Rolling Stone as one of the “most important bands in music since the dawn of the rock and roll era.” Recorded in November of last year, Chicago & Friends: Live at 55 is a one-of-a-kind concert experience, featuring a custom-built LED stage with 3-D animated visuals. Performing their greatest hits, the band is joined by some very special guests, including guitar virtuoso Steve Vai, Chris Daughtry, Robert Randolph, Robin Thicke, VoicePlay, Judith Hill, and Christone “Kingfish” Ingram. Chicago & Friends: Live at 55 airs at 8:30 pm Monday, June 3.

Special features Elton John and his legendary piano

Join singer, songwriter, and performer Elton John in his triumphant return to The Colosseum at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas with this spectacular and critically acclaimed concert recorded at a sell-out show in 2012. The centerpiece of the concert is the show’s namesake piano, an engineering marvel featuring more than 68 LED video screens. The state-of-the-art piano is the perfect accompaniment to Elton’s greatest hits, displaying fantastic imagery that complements his legendary music. Elton John – The Million Dollar Piano features Elton and his band in an unforgettable show, which included classic hits from throughout his career. Elton John – The Million Dollar Piano airs at 7 pm Monday, June 3.

A musical voyage of traditional Irish music

In Celtic Thunder: Odyssey audiences are invited on a sweeping voyage through the heartlands of traditional Irish music, the rhythmic pulse of contemporary Irish music, and the innovative original arrangements that are emblematic of the ensemble’s unique sound. The shared musical chemistry of Celtic Thunder’s lead vocalists Ronan Scolar, Damian McGinty, Neil Byrne, and Emmet Cahill gives the show its compelling power, while each singer adds their distinctive voice and charm to this musical journey, creating a harmonious blend that appeals to a broad audience. Celtic Thunder: Odyssey airs at 6:30 pm Saturday, June 1. Tune in to learn how you can support WILL-TV and get premium tickets to their upcoming show at the Virginia Theater in Champaign on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

Illinois Soul Day at UNCORKED at Krannert Center in February.

Celebrate Juneteenth and Jettie Rhodes Day

On June 19, 1865, nearly two years after President Abraham Lincoln emancipated enslaved Africans in America, Union troops arrived in Galveston Bay, Texas, with news of freedom. This day came to be known as Juneteenth by the newly freed people in Texas. Although it has been long celebrated in the African American community, it wasn't until 2021 that Juneteenth was established as a federal holiday.

Today, Juneteenth celebrates African American resilience and achievement, while aiding in the preservation of those historical narratives that promoted racial and personal advancement since Freedom Day. Join Illinois Soul in celebrating Juneteenth with various events around Champaign-Urbana this month.

Martin Luther King Jettie Rhodes Neighborhood Day was founded by the late Mrs. Jettie Rhodes, who famously asked: "Who's your neighbor?" This day is all about giving back to the community with fun, family, networking, and a diverse atmosphere. Join Illinois Soul, along with Illinois Public Media's Education Department, in celebrating MLK Jettie Rhodes Day on June 22.

June 15: Douglass Park from 12-3 pm

Enjoy music and visit with different local vendors and organizations, including Illinois Soul. Children can make arts and crafts, enjoy the bounce house and obstacle course, or get soaked in the Splash Pad. This free celebration is presented in partnership with the Champaign Public Library and Champaign Park District.

June 19: Special Certified Organic at Gallery Art Bar from 7-10 pm

Certified Organic — a four-part live funk and soul experience featuring local talented singers, musicians, and BIPOC artists all under one roof at Gallery Art Bar in downtown Urbana — wraps up the series with this special Juneteenth jam session. Special thanks to Urbana Acupuncture for their underwriting support of this free local arts and entertainment series.

June 20: Special UNCORKED at Krannert Center from 6-8 pm

Krannert Center for the Performing Arts and Illinois Soul present a special UNCORKED Juneteenth edition, live from Stage 5 in the main lobby of Krannert Center. This free event will feature a performance by a national R&B recording artist, with a cash bar and promotional giveaways. Join us for the ultimate campus-community Juneteenth celebration.

June 22: Annual MLK Jettie Rhodes Day at King Park from 12-4 pm

Enjoy free food, live entertainment, kids' activities, raffle prizes, and a wealth of resourceful information provided by various local nonprofits. Rain or shine, the fun goes on! This free event is presented by the Urbana Park District.

Meet the experts battling climate change

As temperatures rise, icecaps and glaciers melt, oceans warm, forests burn, and weather patterns change, the world as we know it is placed under threat. Ancient connections between plants, animals, and people are undermined. Dynamic Planet, an epic new series filmed over three years, travels to the extremes on all seven continents to meet an extraordinary group of people and animals living and working on the front line of climate change. They reveal how science, nature, and tradition can prepare us for a fast-changing future. The stories told in this series offer hope for the future, proving that it's not too late to adapt, to fix past mistakes, and to care for and protect the places we live. They reveal how science, nature and tradition can help prepare us and our planet for what's coming. The four-part series — featuring episodes on earth, fire, ice, and water — premieres at 7 pm Wednesday, June 19.

New docuseries focuses on environmental innovators

A new character-driven nature docuseries travels the globe to discover the creative solutions and breakthrough blue food technologies that could not only feed us but help save our threatened seas and fresh waterways. Hope in the Water highlights the stories of amazing innovators, aquafarmers, and fishers who are working toward a sustainable future for the planet. The three-part series premieres at 8 pm Wednesday, June 19. Celebrated environmental enthusiasts Shailene Woodley, Martha Stewart, Baratunde Thurston, and José Andrés reveal hidden underworlds jeopardized by climate change, irresponsible fishing and exploitation, and habitat destruction. They are each authentically tied to a particular story, seeking smart solutions to a planet in peril.

The people and politics of the coal industry

King Coal will make its national broadcast premiere as part of the upcoming 37th season of POV. This 2023 Sundance Film Festival breakout hit will air at 9 pm Monday, June 24. Through the personal memories of a fourth-generation coal miner's daughter, this film is about resilience and courage as it explores the complex history and future of the coal industry, the communities it has shaped, and the myths it has created. Filmed in central Appalachia, where Elaine McMillion Sheldon was raised and lives, the film documents the cultural roots of coal and its waning impact over a sector of American life, while also making space for a dream of the future to emerge.

Meet the season 3 judges and home cooks

The Great American Recipe returns with eight new home cooks, two new judges as well as a new location for its third season. The series airs Mondays at 8 pm beginning June 17. Award-winning chef and Los Angeles restaurateur Tim Hollingsworth and Francis Lam, host of public radio's "The Splendid Table," join returning host Alejandra Ramos and judge Tiffany Derry at Green Door Gourmet, a 350-acre farm, on-farm market, and agritourism destination in Nashville, Tennessee. This upbeat friendly cooking competition spotlights the amazing variety of tastes and traditions found across the country, while celebrating the roots of America's diverse cuisine. The talented home cooks prepare their most beloved recipes, with the judges naming a winning dish each week. In the final week, the top three home cooks will compete for a chance to win this year's competition.

Comedian explores how comedy is rooted in real life

Part comedy, part social commentary, part travelogue, Roots of Comedy with Jesus Trejo takes a visceral and incisive documentary approach, exploring how comedians are mirrors to society. Follow Mexican American comedian Jesus Trejo as he embarks on a hilarious, emotional, and often awkward odyssey revealing how the most memorable comedy traces back to the complexities of real life and community. This six-part series will air Fridays at 9 pm beginning June 21, with two episodes airing each week.

"Shortly after my parents had to leave the family home in the early 2000s, I received their collection of vinyl recordings. As a devoted listener of Classics of the Phonograph, I contacted John to find out whether he would like to add any to the WILL Friends library of recordings. Subsequently, I spent part of a Saturday morning with him as he selected 125. If memory serves, I learned that a dozen were recorded in New York City at performances he attended. Others were recordings he sold to finance his education. His enjoyment in receiving them was obvious. The morning made me and would have made my parents pleased."

"Working at IPM, I had a few chances to work alongside John Frayne. We sorted heavy (often dusty) vintage vinyl, enjoyed musical programs in the TV studio, watching along with the crew and volunteers, and asked Friends of WILL to support the stations from the radio studios. It was always fun because there was storytelling to go along with the work! Every week we hear some more stories on Classics of the Phonograph. The weekly scripts are consistently captivating. We're fortunate to have John with us, and the program to call 'our own' here at WILL."

‘Classics of the Phonograph’ turns 20

By Katie Buzard
Editor of Clef Notes, our classical music
e-newsletter

This month marks the 20th anniversary of Classics of the Phonograph, hosted and produced by John Frayne, a longtime fixture of WILL-FM 90.9. We chatted with John to discuss how Classics of the Phonograph came to be, how he approaches programming, and the importance of historical recordings in the digital age.

John Frayne’s voice has been a consistent presence on WILL since 1985, when he began hosting Classics by Request, a program he presented for 30 years. He also hosted Prairie Performances until 2015 and still emcees Afternoon at the Opera on Saturday afternoons. In 2004, Program Director Jake Schumacher asked him to do a program on historical recordings as a summer fill-in for Prairie Performances. “Jake was aware of my absorbing interest in old recordings,” John recalled. “The title was decided upon after much arguing over many possibilities. After I repeated the show in the summer of 2005, it was decided that the show would continue all year round.”

When planning his weekly programs for Classics of the Phonograph, John usually focuses on one composer or performer. For instance, if a famous artist has recently passed away, he might plan a memorial program.

“I try to vary the subjects: conductor, instrumentalists (and type of instrument), composers, musical works, recording history, recent deaths, anniversaries, and so on,” he said. “In approaching a decision, I try to let my mind roam over new ideas, subjects that should be revisited, new developments, things never done before, new issues of large collections summarizing a career’s achievements.”

So, what constitutes a historical recording?

“I am fascinated with the early electric period of recording, roughly from 1925 to the early 1930s,” John explained. “From there on, I cover the end of the 78 era (to 1950), then the mono LP era (to the late 1950s), then stereo LPs and cassettes, onto the onset of digital recordings and CDs (from about 1980 and 1985). There has been a massive project to issue important recordings of the 78 and LP eras onto CD, and I have relied more and more on CD versions of historical recordings.”

John mostly draws from his own record collection for the show. “I have been collecting historic recordings on CD for some time, and I still have many of the original LPs — less so the original 78 rpm records,” he said. “My family and I must have some space to live in. (The station myth at WILL is that I have a barn full of records. Not true, but a farmhouse full of them, yes.) The Friends Library was not designed to develop a historical collection. But recent bequests to the station library have made our collection a rich resource in older recordings.”

When asked about the place and value of programs like Classics of the Phonograph and the preservation of historical recordings more broadly, John replied that he doesn’t think the record as a physical object will ever disappear.

“People still like, even love, physical objects, whether cars, violins, or old wine bottles,” he said. “It seems to me that we are in a golden age in the recovery of the knowledge of the history of classical music. The sheer amount of old music being recorded is amazing. To be sure, the audience for that music is very small, but it is a dedicated audience. I find it hard to believe that there will be a generation of young performers who are not interested in hearing how Casals, or Rachmaninoff, or Kreisler performed music.”

“To be sure, an interest in the past should be balanced for a concern for the musical life of the present and the future,” he continued.

“I began collecting records around 1945, so I have seen the decline and fall of 78s, LPs, reel-to-reel tapes, mono recording, analog recording, cassettes, and now CDs and DVDs. At each stage I have said, ‘No, I am not going to collect everything all over again!’ and I went ahead and did just that.”

Early childhood educators recognized

EARLY CHILDHOOD
CHAMPIONS

Illinois Public Media's Education Department honored early childhood educators and volunteers from central Illinois at its Early Childhood Champions reception on May 14 in the Collins Studio.

Three 2024 Early Childhood Champions were recognized:

Very Important Person

- Shifa and Chiron and their handler, Sarah Nixon, Miniature Horse Power.

Emerging Professional

- Jessica Ochoa, International Prep Academy, Champaign Unit 4.

Professional of the Year

- Angela Kleber, International Prep Academy, Champaign Unit 4.

Sarah Nixon and one of her miniature horses welcome a young visitor.

Angela Kleber

Jessica Ochoa

In addition to an awards plaque, Lone Star Lodge #18, PHA F&AM provided a monetary gift to each of the award recipients.

The program is our local effort in support of the national PBS KIDS Early Learning Champions, which seeks to recognize and support talented early education professionals who work or volunteer with young children (infants to third graders) and their families.

"The Early Childhood Champion awards program is our local effort to support the national initiative," said Kellie Blanden, Illinois Public Media assistant director of educational outreach and professional development. "It is our goal to help others understand the importance of early childhood education and early development. These pivotal years lay the foundation for all future learning, behavior, and wellness. A strong foundation helps children develop the skills they need as adults. Our early childhood champions are not recognized enough for their hard work and passion to serve our littlest learners. This is our effort to show them how much we appreciate them!"

Arthouse: Fred Rogers documentary featured

The next film in the Arthouse Experience Film Series is "Won't You Be My Neighbor," the 2018 film that examines the life and legacy of Fred Rogers, the beloved host of the popular children's television show Mister Rogers' Neighborhood.

Charmingly soft-spoken and yet powerfully incisive expressing his profound ideals, Rogers was a unique presence on television for generations. Through interviews of his family and colleagues, the life of this would-be pastor is explored. His landmark series, Mister Rogers' Neighborhood (1968), could gently delve into important subjects no other children's show would have dared for that time.

"Won't You Be My Neighbor" will be shown at 7 pm Friday, June 21, at the Virginia Theatre, 203 W. Park Ave., Champaign. Presented by Illinois Public Media, films in the series are limited-release, high-quality titles that have captured the imagination of movie lovers.

General admission tickets ($7 per film) are available at the Virginia Theatre box office, online at thevirginia.org, or charge by phone at 217-356-9063.
