OCTOBER 2023 Vol. XLIX, No. 4

A new documentary by Ken Burns is always a big deal, and I'm excited for all of you to experience his latest, The American Buffalo. In true Ken Burns style, the documentary is about so much more than the story of the buffalo. It also explores western expansion in America, the destruction of an entire ecosystem, and the special relationship between the buffalo and Native Americans.

As mentioned on page 1, we are thrilled that the series features University of Illinois history professor, Indigenous scholar, and ethnobotanist Rosalyn LaPier. LaPier acted as an adviser and was interviewed for the documentary. It is always gratifying for Illinois Public Media to see the University of Illinois represented in national programs.

If you want a preview, I recommend watching the special The American Buffalo: A Story of Resilience featuring Professor LaPier, Ken Burns, and others in a special NewsHour feature with Judy Woodruff. It's available for you to stream as a member with WILL Passport. I learned a more holistic story about the buffalo and how Indigenous people created landscapes to entice buffalo. It really is a fascinating companion piece, and it highlights how important the Native American experience is to this story.

I hope you will also watch the second season of Native America, which premieres on Oct. 24. The documentary series offers a contemporary view of Indigenous people in our country. Both series are reminders of what these lands were like before Europeans arrived and reminders that Indigenous people are still a cultural force in this country and an integral part of our future.

Thank you for supporting our stations and making it possible for us to share these important stories and viewpoints.

COVER STORY

Joseph H. Williams Tallgrass Prairie Preserve, Pawhuska, Osage County, Oklahoma (May 2021).

U. of I. history professor featured in latest Ken Burns series, 'The American Buffalo'

This month the Department of History at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign and the Spurlock Museum of World Cultures will host a screening and panel discussion of a new Ken Burns documentary, The American Buffalo. The film includes interviews with leading Native American scholars and experts, including Rosalyn LaPier, an Indigenous writer and U. of I. professor of history. She also is one of the experts featured in a conversation with host Judy Woodruff in a PBS NewsHour special, The American Buffalo: A Story of Resilience.

Ken Burns

Rosalyn LaPier

The local event — from 4 to 6 pm Sunday, Oct. 8, at the Spurlock Museum, 500 S. Gregory, Urbana — will show highlights from the four-hour documentary, with time for discussion afterward with LaPier; Robert Morrissey, a U. of I. professor of history; and U. of I. graduate student Sam Froiland. Fred Hoxie, a professor emeritus of history, will moderate the discussion. A reception will follow. No registration is required. Doors open at 3:15 pm.

LaPier became involved in the film more than two years ago, as both an adviser and as an on-camera expert who is featured prominently in the first hour of The American Buffalo. She was involved in other stages of the project from reviewing the film script, to reviewing the rough cut of the film, to participating in film premieres with the Florentine Films team.

"I am a traditionally trained ethnobotanist and an enrolled member of the Blackfeet tribe, a tribe that has a long relationship with bison on the northern Great Plains," LaPier said. "And I am an environmental historian with an understanding of the history of the American West. As a scholar, I blend traditional ecological knowledge learned from elders with academic knowledge."

Directed by Burns, the series was written by Dayton Duncan, with Julie Dunfey as producer. The film explores an important part of American history. But it is a complicated story, LaPier said.

"It also is a story that most people think they know and understand. However, what is new in this telling is that viewers will learn from the numerous Indigenous voices, as well as from the companion book 'Blood Memory,'" she said. "Viewers will also learn more about the co-evolution between Indigenous peoples and bison, the ecological knowledge of Indigenous peoples, and how the demise of bison impacted Indigenous communities. And by the end (of the film), the restoration of bison to the American landscape in the 21st century is shown."

This year, LaPier is researching the landscape management practices of Indigenous women on the northern Great Plains as a fellow at Dumbarton Oaks, a research institute affiliated with Harvard University. Her books include "Invisible Reality: Storytellers, Storytakers and the Supernatural World of the Blackfeet."

Season 42: A platypus called ‘Zoom’ and animatronic spies in the ocean

Nature launches its 42nd season this month with an intimate portrait of a Tasmanian man who befriends a platypus followed by a four-part series with an unprecedented view of the ocean with the help of animatronic spy cameras disguised as marine animals.

The Platypus Guardian, airing at 7 pm Wednesday, Oct 18, tells the story of Pete Walsh, who has an unlikely friendship with a platypus he calls “Zoom.” With the help of experts, Walsh learns more about the platypus’s secret world in a mission to protect them from the dangers of urban development.

Next is the new four-part Spy in the Ocean, A Nature Miniseries that uses decoy marine animals to secretly record behavior in the wild. The latest installment of the popular Spy in the Wild takes place in the ocean, the largest ecosystem on Earth. The uncanny robotic look-alikes take us to places where no spy has gone before. They swim, float, paddle, waddle, drift, and fly into every nook and cranny to film rarely seen behavior that reveals how ocean animals possess emotions and behavior similar to humans — including the capacity to love, grieve, deceive, and invent.

Spy in the Ocean, A Nature Miniseries airs Wednesdays at 7 pm beginning Oct. 25.

Explore the history of Earth on ‘NOVA’

A new miniseries from NOVA provides an opportunity to witness the most dramatic events in Earth’s history — from its birth to the emergence of humanity. Through spectacular animation and leading scientists, the new five-part series, Ancient Earth, tells the story of how a hellscape of molten lava transformed into a lush planet filled with life. Watch the NOVA miniseries Ancient Earth Wednesdays at 8 pm beginning Oct. 4.

PRAIRIE & FIRE

Prairie Fire, WILL's monthly magazine show, features central Illinois stories at 7:30 pm Thursday, Oct. 19.

Although features on Prairie Fire are always subject to change, the team is working on these stories:

MK Pritzker

Take a walking tour of the newly redecorated Illinois governor's mansion with first lady MK Pritzker. Mixing contemporary art and sculpture into the more traditional furniture of the home, the renovation celebrates talented Illinois artists from recent decades. Her new book, "A House That Made History," not only celebrates the updating of the mansion in Springfield but also tells the story of the house's evolution since 1855.

Meet Troy Taylor, an author of more than 130 books about haunted history, true crime, and the unexplained in America. Taylor shares some downstate ghost stories. He will also introduce us to Alton, Illinois, one of the most haunted small towns in America.

Early holiday specials (and premiums!)

Two specials on Sunday, Oct. 29, bring a special opportunity to devoted fans of All Creatures Great and Small and of holiday cooking shows. Christmas in the Dales and Mary Berry's Ultimate Christmas will provide an early reason to celebrate. Plus, our pre-holiday season pledge event will offer special premiums just in time for gift giving.

Mary Berry shares her ultimate Christmas feast with all the trimmings in Mary Berry's Ultimate Christmas at 2 pm. Friends (and chefs) Angela Hartnett and Monica Galetti join her to share favorite festive recipes from their heritage.

Then stay tuned for Christmas in the Dales on All Creatures Great and Small on MASTERPIECE at 3:30 pm. There's something magical about the village of Darrowby and the stunning Yorkshire Dales. And this magic is most evident in the finales from the first three seasons. Christmas in the Dales celebrates the best Christmas moments from each of these seasons. In addition, the program goes behind the scenes with the cast and creators as they offer Christmas memories and holiday cheer to brighten the season.

Disco and the movement to destroy it

American Experience explores the cultural movement that gave rise to disco and the backlash that tried to destroy it. Airing at 8 pm Monday, Oct. 30, The War on Disco examines the gay, Black, and Latino cultural forces that gave rise to disco music in the 1970s, and the activism that opposed it. A major stylistic departure from rock, disco's rise to the top of the charts signaled a cultural shift that some found threatening.

‘Don Giovanni’ — A new take and two Met debuts

Tony Award-winning director Ivo van Hove makes his Met debut with a new take on Mozart's tragicomedy Don Giovanni. The familiar tale of deceit and damnation is reset in an abstract architectural landscape.

Maestro Nathalie Stutzmann also makes her Met debut, conducting the cast led by baritone Peter Mattei in the title role alongside bass-baritone Adam Plachetka as Leporello. Sopranos Federica Lombardi, Ana María Martínez, and Ying Fang portray Giovanni's conquests (Donna Anna, Donna Elvira, and Zerlina) and tenor Ben Bliss is Don Ottavio. Erin Morley hosts.

Don Giovanni will air on Great Performances at the Met on WILL-TV at 12:30 pm Sunday, Oct. 1.

A story of longing, identity, and discovery

'Little Bird' features a talented cast, including Darla Contois, left, as the title character and Lisa Edelstein as Esther's adoptive mother.

Little Bird, a new six-part limited series, explores universal themes of resilience in the face of trauma and loss.

Beginning at 10 pm Sunday, Oct. 22, the award-winning Canadian drama follows Bezhig Little Bird as she embarks on a path to find her birth family. Removed from her home in Long Pine Reserve in Saskatchewan, she is adopted into a Montréal Jewish family at age 5, becoming Esther Rosenblum. Now in her 20s, Bezhig longs for the family she lost. Through her search, she discovers she is part of a generation of children forcibly apprehended by the Canadian government through a policy later coined the Sixties Scoop. A companion film at 9 pm Friday, Oct. 13, Coming Home, provides historical context to the series.

'Marriage' provides slice-of-life drama

The romantic drama Marriage offers a warm up-close portrait of a 30-year relationship — sometimes funny, sometimes moving, and always revealing. Married couple Ian (Sean Bean) and Emma (Nicola Walker) negotiate the insecurities, the ambiguities, the hopes and the fears, and the risks and the gifts of a long-term intimate relationship. The four-part limited series begins at 10 pm Thursday, Oct. 12.

WWII drama returns with second season

Season 2 of World on Fire on MASTERPIECE is an adrenalized, emotionally gripping, and resonant World War II drama that follows the intertwining fates of ordinary people in five countries as they grapple with the effects of the war on their everyday lives. The series takes viewers from the war-torn streets of Britain deep into Nazi Germany, to the resistance within occupied France, and the brutal sands of the North African desert. Jonah Hauer-King and Lesley Manville star. World on Fire returns at 8 pm Sunday, Oct. 15.

Travel back to Portofino in season 2

Set in the beautiful Italian seaside town of Portofino during the Roaring '20s, season 2 of the glamorous period drama Hotel Portofino begins at 7 pm Sunday, Oct. 15. It is the summer of 1927, and Bella Ainsworth is still devoting all her energy into making the hotel a success. Bella also is concerned for her children — Lucian, whose marriage to Rose might be facing trouble, and Alice, who needs a break from her responsibilities at the hotel. Bella's husband, Cecil, has not been seen since returning to England at the end of the previous summer.

Turn up the volume on Friday nights

Music specials return Fridays at 8 pm

Experience the groundbreaking sounds of bebop pioneer, virtuoso percussionist, and bandleader Max Roach, left, in a new episode of American Masters. Max Roach: The Drum Also Waltzes (Oct. 6) highlights how Roach's far-reaching ambitions were inspired and challenged by the inequities of the society around him. His political consciousness, expressed in his groundbreaking "Freedom Suite" and other works, made him a fierce advocate for change at a time when the nation was steeped in racism.

Five-time Grammy Award-winning pianist, composer, and producer Robert Glasper, right, celebrates the 10th Anniversary of his groundbreaking, award-winning, and genre shattering brand, "Black Radio," on Next at the Kennedy Center (Oct. 13). Join us for Robert Glasper's Black Radio, a special concert featuring guests, host Affion Crockett, and the 32-piece Black Radio Orchestra led by Derrick Hodge.

When Patsy Cline Was Crazy (Oct. 20) is an acclaimed documentary about an American music icon. From humble roots, she grew into that rare and mythical artist — a self-taught singer with a distinctive, precise, disciplined voice and a unique depth of emotional expression.

The New York City Ballet performs at Madrid's Teatro Real on Great Performances (Oct. 27). Works include "Serenade" and "Square Dance" by George Balanchine and "The Times Are Racing" by choreographer Justin Peck.

Sister Boniface featured in new mystery

First there was Father Brown. Now, say hello to Sister Boniface. This clever, moped-riding nun is the police's secret weapon for solving murders in Sister Boniface Mysteries — a divine Father Brown spin-off. The new light-hearted murder mystery series airs Thursdays at 8 pm beginning Oct. 12. It's the 1960s and police forensics are rudimentary. Luckily the residents of Great Slaughter have a secret weapon. If there's evidence to be found, Sister Boniface will find it with a little help from dashing DI Sam Gillespie and buttoned-up Bermudan DS Felix Livingstone.

Early access to new shows with WILL Passport

On Oct. 14, Friends of WILL receive early streaming access to A Town Called Victoria, a co-production of Reel South and Independent Lens. The three-part docuseries examines the resiliency of a community after the 2017 arson at a Texas Mosque. After the incident, a deeply divided town must work together to get through real challenges.

Then beginning Oct. 15, members can binge new seasons of three returning dramas.

Season 2 of Hotel Portofino picks up as the hotel begins to prosper and Bella considers if she should reunite with her no-good husband or focus on a blossoming friendship with a handsome architect.

Through the eyes of ordinary people, the second season of World on Fire on MASTERPIECE takes viewers from the war-torn streets of Britain into Nazi Germany and beyond.

Annika on MASTERPIECE returns in season 2 with baffling new murders, while the show's namesake character confronts the realities of raising a rebellious teenage daughter.

IPM partners in the return of ‘The Middle’

Illinois Public Media is proud to serve as a partner station in the return of The Middle with Jeremy Hobson to the radio airwaves this fall. Last month, we welcomed Hobson, the award-winning journalist and friend, back to Campbell Hall and the WILL radio studios to launch his national, now weekly, live call-in show, which premiered on Sept. 28.

“I am excited to have The Middle included as a part of weekly programming for so many public radio stations across the country,” Hobson said. “After more than 20 years in journalism, I think more than ever we must listen to each other, and we need to have media organizations that are trusted across the political spectrum. I want this show to be a go-to for nonjudgmental, civil dialogue, and debate. And I want it to be fun to listen to, as well.”

The Middle is a nonpartisan, live call-in talk show specifically focused on elevating the voices of Americans in the geographic, political, and philosophical middle.

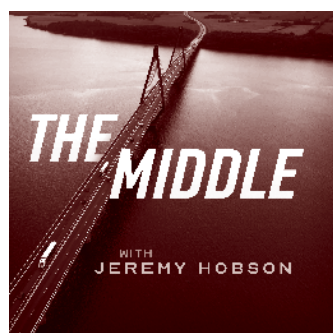

“We’re excited to present a live program with a focus on really listening to everyday Americans and amplifying the voices of those in the Heartland,” said Moss Bresnahan, executive director for Illinois Public Media. “This new series is a great opportunity for public media to address this need and to find a new approach to advancing civil dialogue and public engagement at a time when our nation needs it the most.”

The Middle is hosted and produced by Hobson, a veteran public radio journalist and former host of NPR’s Here & Now and Marketplace Morning Report. The Urbana native got his broadcasting start at the age of 9, contributing to WILL’s Treehouse Radio and later working on WILL radio documentaries while a student at the University of Illinois Laboratory High School through Illinois Public Media’s Illinois Youth Media project.

“Growing up in the Midwest, I know people don’t necessarily spend every waking minute thinking about politics, but they do have a lot of sway in our politics, and they have something to say,” Hobson said. “As someone who has worked in public broadcasting my whole career, I know firsthand that public radio is in a unique position to facilitate conversations focused on these overlooked but important voices.”

As The Middle moves to a regular weekly program, Illinois Public Media will continue to provide distribution support for the show. Although the list of stations continues to grow, we are currently delivering the program at 320 public radio stations from coast to coast.

The Middle is produced in partnership with Illinois Public Media, Nashville Public Radio, and iHeart Media. Tune in for The Middle, Thursday nights at 8 pm on WILL-AM 580, FM 90.9, and streaming live at will.illinois.edu and at listentothemiddle.com. The Middle will also be available as a podcast, wherever you find your podcasts.

‘WILL Call’ highlights local arts, entertainment

If you're looking for something to do in central Illinois, look no further than WILL Call, a new radio feature highlighting local arts, performance, culture, and entertainment efforts across central Illinois that has a companion online calendar.

Co-hosts Kimberly Schofield and Owen Henderson talk about several upcoming events Wednesdays at 6:45 and 8:45 am and Thursdays at 5:44 pm on WILL-AM 580 and FM 90.9. Henderson also produces and edits the show, adding music or other sound.

Listeners also can consult the more comprehensive online event calendar, go.illinois.edu/will-call that includes theaters, live music, museums, and outdoor events around central Illinois.

"This is a fun and quick way for people to listen to what's coming up and then visit our website to check the calendar," Schofield said.

"The conversation between Owen and me is light and hopefully allows our personalities to show through a little bit. It's not just theater or live music, but also street festivals, auditions, dances, and other events that the general public might not automatically think of when they hear 'art and entertainment.'"

Kimberly Schofield

"Central Illinois has way more going on in the arts and culture space than many people give it credit for," Henderson added. "And we wanted to shine some light on all of the hard work and interesting things that local artists and performers do, as well as the touring groups and artists that visit the area."

In addition to their reporting experience, both hosts have participated in performing arts locally. So they use their own knowledge and connections in the community to provide balanced coverage of events.

If you have an arts or entertainment event in central Illinois coming up, please email WILL Call at willnewsroom@illinois.edu.

IPM reaches youngest viewers at CU Days

In August, Illinois Public Media participated in CU Days at Douglass Park. One of this year's highlights was welcoming Costume Character Elmo. Our favorite Sesame Street monster danced, played, and posed for photos with families.

Thank you to everyone who helped make CU Days a success and to all the families who came by our tent. Under the direction of Illinois Public Media's Education Department, we gave out 250 Pre-K learning bags and saw so many smiling faces with Costume Character Elmo throughout the day. This is our second year at CU Days, and we love this opportunity to serve our diverse audiences across east central Illinois.

Thank you to PNC Grow Up Great® and Sesame Workshop for making Costume Character Elmo's visit possible!

Join us in celebrating music on public radio

Join Illinois Public Media in commemorating Public Radio Music Day, a nationwide celebration recognizing the special role noncommercial stations play in the music world both locally and nationally. This year's theme, Building Community Through Music, encourages public radio music stations to showcase how they support school music programs in their local community.

This month, Illinois Public Media is launching an all-classical stream, which we hope makes this music more accessible to local students. Enjoy your local favorites like Classic Mornings with Vic DiGeronimo, Classics by Request with Vincent Truth, and Classics of the Phonograph with John Frayne alongside beloved classical compositions all day and night, from anywhere.

We also are excited to share new episodes of Prairie Performances this month with guest host and John Frayne Classical Music Fellow Julia Escobar. Four new performances can be heard Fridays from 7-9 pm on WILL-FM 90.9 and streaming on Illinois Public Media All Classical at will.illinois.edu.

Minor 'Hamlet' characters featured in film

Arthouse EXPERIENCE

The next feature in the Arthouse Experience Film Series is the 1990 film version of an award-winning stage play, "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead." The film will be shown at 7 pm Friday, Oct. 6, at the Virginia Theatre, 203 W. Park Ave., Champaign.

In the PG-rated film, Rosencrantz (Gary Oldman) and Guildenstern (Tim Roth) — two minor characters in William Shakespeare's "Hamlet" — ramble obliviously through Elsinore Castle and its environs as the events of "Hamlet" unfold around them. Playwright Sir Tom Stoppard wrote and directed this film version of his own award-winning stage play, winning the Golden Lion at the picture's Venice Film Festival premiere.

Hosted by Illinois Public Media and the Champaign Park District, films in the series are limited-release, high-quality titles that have captured the imagination of movie lovers. Films will be followed by a post-show discussion and in some cases an on-stage talk by directors, producers, and other special guests.

General admission tickets ($7 per film) are available at the Virginia Theatre box office, online at thevirginia.org, or charge by phone at 217-356-9063.

willam580 SPECIALS

Our programming slot for Sundays at 8 pm on WILL-AM is dedicated to bringing you radio specials that meet the moment, celebrate our history, and open our eyes and ears to new perspectives.

During October, WILL-AM 580 will air Click Here Sundays at 8 pm. Click Here uses deep reporting and investigative journalism to introduce listeners to the people behind today's cybersecurity and intelligence headlines. From Recorded Future News, the five-part series uses sound-rich, intellectually curious, and engaged storytelling to introduce listeners to the people making and breaking our digital world.

Hosted by former NPR Investigations correspondent Dina Temple-Raston, listeners will meet not just the hackers, but the people who are chasing them.

In its first year the Click Here podcast has been recognized with a 2023 National Edward R. Murrow award, two Headliner Awards, a regional Edward R. Murrow award and was a 2023 Webby Honoree for best tech podcast.

Thank you, Program Underwriters!
