September 2020 Volume XLVIII, Number 3

Labor Day weekend marks the time Americans wrap up their summer fun and head back to school and work. This summer has been like no other, but we know WILL radio and television have been with you all along the way as part of your "quarantine family."

My colleagues at Illinois Public Media have been busy creating meaningful content for you. Last month, we launched our Social Justice Learning center, and focused curriculum-based helps for families and individuals of all ages. Now, we explore issues relating to our friends, colleagues, and family in the LGBTQ community. You can learn more on pages 18-19.

The community is our priority as we schedule and create programs. We partnered with colleagues at the Big 10 Network and Illinois News Bureau to bring you 3 documentaries featuring people and bright ideas from the University of Illinois. See them all this month; details on page 3. The Pygmalion Festival is partnered with WILL this month, as well as we bring you Illinois Country, our own documentary, as well as Pygmalion featured artists Sinfonia da Camera in concert at 7 pm on September 25 on WILL-FM.

Enjoy these last summer days. Thanks for your support of WILL that helps to bring you significant, thoughtful programming and shows that help celebrate the arts in our community.

Filmed on the 25th anniversary of its first full performance at the 3Arena in Dublin—the spot where it all began—the Riverdance 25th Anniversary Show is a powerful and stirring reinvention of this beloved family favorite. Catapulting Riverdance into the 21st century, this new cinematic experience immerses viewers in the extraordinary and elemental power of music and dance. Celebrated the world over for its Grammy® Award-winning score, Riverdance brings thrilling energy and passion to Irish and international dance. Riverdance 25th Anniversary Show is part of special programming at 7 pm Tuesday, September 1.

25 years ago, seven minutes changed the face of Irish dancing forever. The Eurovision Song Contest interval act performance by Riverdance gave millions of people a new and exciting glimpse of the future of Irish dance. Now composer Bill Whelan has re-recorded his mesmerizing soundtrack while producer Moya Doherty and director John McColgan have reimagined the groundbreaking show with innovative and spectacular lighting, projection, stage, and costume designs.

New and extraordinarily evocative video backdrops call forth the beauty and mystery of the island and enhance the show's central theme, chronicling the emotional upheaval of the migration to a new Irish life in America. An incredible new generation of dancers and musicians, including a fantastic 17-year-old fiddler from New Jersey, brings fresh energy to the production.

American Heretics: The Politics of the Gospel offers a poignant glimpse into the deeply-entwined, polarizing, and often misunderstood history of religion, race and politics as seen through the point of view of a courageous group of Oklahomans working to bridge the divide within their communities. Leading historical, religious and constitutional experts also bring compelling perspective on how the conservative Christian agenda emerged over the last 30 years to become a powerful and divisive force in today's political landscape. Directed and Produced by Emmy Award-winning filmmakers and sisters Jeanine Isabel

Reel Midwest examines the Bible

Butler and Catherine Lynn Butler, the film airs as part of Reel Midwest at 7:30 pm Thursday, September 24.

Illinois Country returns as part of annual Pygmalion Festival

The WILL-produced documentary Illinois Country will air again as part of this year's Pygmalion Festival.

Since 2005, Pygmalion has sought to engage the community with the newest and most vital live music it can afford. Over the years, it has grown into a multi-disciplinary event.

In light of COVID-19, this year's festival will yet again take a new shape. Illinois Public Media is proud to be a part of this experience by featuring Illinois Country at 6 pm Saturday, September 26. The film was inspired by Ken Burns' Country Music documentary and highlights native Illinois country music stars on their various roads to success.

WILL premieres Big 10 Network documentaries

In a partnership with the Big 10 Network and the Illinois News Bureau, WILL presents three documentaries that highlight both past and present work conducted at the University of Illinois.

"I'm happy we can collaborate with the Big 10 and the News Bureau in order to bring these short films to a broader audience," said Moss Bresnahan. "The work of these Illini deserves to be highlighted in our community."

Illinois Artists

Sunday, September 13 at 4:30 pm

The short film follows artists with University of Illinois roots. Professor of Dance Endalyn Taylor performed on Broadway and now encourages new dance students. Frustrated by lack of diversity, the founding members of Definition Theatre Company created their own home. And faculty from the Jazz Studies Program venture off-campus to perform at the Iron Post in Urbana, Illinois.

Engineering Fire

Sunday, September 20 at 4:30 pm

Professor Emeritus Bruce Litchfield leads a team of engineers as they travel to India, Africa, and Haiti to research how people use fires to cook their food and heat their homes. Then, with MacArthur "Genius" Grant recipient Tami Bund and funding from the National Science Foundation, they create a viable, affordable, and simple heating system called the Sun Bucket.

William L. Everitt:

An Optimist's Journey

Sunday, September 27 at 4:35 pm

William L. Everitt led some of the greatest minds in engineering and helped transform the University of Illinois into one of the top schools in the country. The film tells the story of the inventor, author, visionary and former dean of what is now The Grainger College of Engineering, as well as the creation of the now named Everitt Lab, one of the first of its kind.

The Choice in an historic election season

In the midst of an historic pandemic, surging unemployment, and growing economic uncertainty, American voters will head to the polls this fall to decide whether President Donald Trump or former Vice President Joe Biden will lead the country for the next four years. And as it has for every election since 1988, Frontline's acclaimed series The Choice will investigate the life stories of the two candidates: the roots of their drive to be president, the moments that shaped them, and the life method that has brought them to this point. Airing at 8 pm Tuesday, September 22, this two-hour special will prepare Americans not just to vote in the election, but to understand what drives the president who will be sworn in on January 20, 2021, to lead a country in crisis.

Preschoolers and their families from coast-to-coast will take a trip to Animal Town this Labor Day with the premiere of the newest PBS KIDS series, Elinor Wonders Why. The animated show encourages children to follow their curiosity, ask questions, figure out the answers, and learn about the natural world around them using their science inquiry skills.

The series centers on the adventures of Elinor and her pals Ari, a funny and imaginative bat; and Olive, a perceptive and warm elephant. Young viewers will meet all kinds of interesting, funny, and quirky characters, each with a lesson to share about respecting others, the importance of diversity, caring for the environment and working together to solve problems.

A British favorite gets a new spin

Amsterdam—city of bikes, boats, and bodies. At least, that's the way steely-eyed cop Piet van der Valk sees his murder-infested beat. Marc Warren (Beecham House, The Good Wife) stars as the title character in an all-new series based on Nicolas Freeling's legendary crime thrillers. The wildly popular original series of Van der Valk starred Barry Foster and ran on British television from 1972 to 1992. Now Marc Warren steps into the role of the brilliant but cynical inspector, solving baffling crimes in 21st-century Amsterdam, which is more prosperous, cosmopolitan, and crime-prone than ever. MASTERPIECE presents the three-episode series at 8 pm Sundays, September 13-27.

On pledge drive days with this symbol, program start and end times may vary.

WILL: your source for remote learning

As many school districts start the year with remote or hybrid learning, WILL is ready to help teachers, parents, and students.

"Last spring, teachers were quickly thrust into virtual learning with their classes. We knew at WILL that we had to help facilitate this new method of teaching and learning," said Kellie Blanden, assistant director of educational outreach and professional development.

Fortunately, the Illinois Edition of PBS Learning Media was ready to go. It offers special collections of resources organized by grade, subject area, and appropriate content. Covering PreK-Grade 12, it has everything teachers, parents, and students need as we start the school year with a new normal.

SOCIAL JUSTICE LEARNING

Often a lack of understanding someone else's experiences can breed prejudice and discrimination. This can come in the form of social injustices around race, ethnicity, or national origin; mental or physical ability; sexual orientation, gender, or gender identity/expression. Over the summer, WILL Education launched a new Social Justice Learning initiative with the goal of creating a digital space to share educational resources and materials that could help guide children, families, and educators when exploring these critical conversations.

Beginning September 14 and running through the fall, our Social Justice Learning space is focusing on the experiences of being LGBTQ+ in America. We believe this is an important time to explore this topic as our local community prepares to celebrate PRIDE here in Champaign-Urbana. People of all sexual orientations and gender identities can benefit from discovering more resources on this topic. It is our hope that all people can gain a more unbiased and thorough understanding of the LGBTQ+ community while also learning how to promote acceptance. And for anyone who identifies as LGBTQ+, we hope this space can help validate and represent their experiences, sexual orientations, and gender identities.

Divided into sections for early childhood, adolescents, and adults, each learning level features videos, audio, and text to facilitate a variety of learning styles. As with any social justice conversation, we believe it's critical to begin with our littlest ones and continue that work throughout adulthood so we can keep the conversations, the learning, and the societal shift going to ensure lifelong impact. However, we understand these conversations can be difficult, and often we don't know where to begin. Here are just a few examples of the content that will be available at will.illinois.edu/socialjusticelearning starting September 14. We highly encourage you to regularly visit this page to begin or continue your growth in these social justice areas.

What Does the Supreme Court Decision on LGBTQ Workers Rights Mean?

The 21st—Illinois Public Media’s statewide talk show—covers the landmark case by the U.S. Supreme Court that ruled that the civil rights law protects gay, lesbian, and transgender employees from discrimination based on their sexual orientation or gender identity.

Illinois Public Media welcomes Ryan Wilde

The 21st team is happy to welcome Ryan Wilde as the newest producer. Wilde originally hails from New York, but has literally run around all over the world. "I love the outdoors, and I run a lot, including marathons and ultramarathons in North Korea, Antarctica, Cuba, New Zealand, and more."

This sense of adventure was a trademark of Wilde's personality early on. "As the youngest of four siblings, I was always trying to keep up, always on the go. I had an insatiable curiosity."

Initially, Wilde studied finance, but he soon realized it was not the world for him. "In the midst of transferring colleges, but not sure what I wanted to study, I decided to take a year off. My desire to see the world led me to a job washing dishes at McMurdo Station in Antarctica. This kicked off eight years of travelling the world, across all seven continents."

The break was exactly what he needed. "Inspired by my encounters around the world and interactions with a vast array of people, places, and cultures, I knew I wanted to tell stories. The curiosity which prompted my far and wide travels and that affinity for adventure and the fast paced, 'next thing' seemed like it would very naturally transition to journalism."

A gig at the daily public radio program The Brian Lehrer Show at WNYC introduced Wilde to the daily, live format that he quickly loved. "Every day is different, the pace is exciting and fast, and there is always something new to learn and help share with the world. There really is never a dull day in public radio and it really suits my personality."

Now Wilde brings that passion to The 21st. "I love the show because it aims to serve and build up the communities we broadcast to with reliable, dependable, and accessible programming. And there is such a diversity of things we cover! Everything from state and local politics to pressing social issues to music and sports."

The various show topics also help Wilde explore his new home. "I'm new to the Midwest, and I love camping, hiking, anything outdoors. And I love surfing! Not much surf being surrounded by cornfields but I hear you can surf Lake Michigan sometimes during storm season, so I'm definitely looking forward to trying that out."

Welcome to the team, Ryan!
