september 2017 Volume XLV, Number 3

Over 50 years ago, the United States entered a war that would define a generation. Now, PBS is proud to present Ken Burns' latest film, The Vietnam War, created with Lynn Novick. Together, Novick and Burns have crafted this in-depth documentary that spans a massive time frame and a wide array of people.

Fans of Ken and Lynn's previous films know that his attention to detail and nuance is beyond compare, and The Vietnam War is no different. I encourage everyone, no matter your feelings, to tune in to this impressive event.

This film showcases once again the importance of public media. An understanding of the history of our country is the only way we can look to our future. Public media ensures that this knowledge is available to all. And as we all know, knowledge is power.

Thank you for making us all powerful.

The long-awaited documentary is here

The Vietnam War, a new 10-part, 18-hour documentary film series directed by Ken Burns and Lynn Novick, will premiere at 7 pm Sunday, September 17. The first five episodes will air nightly at 7 pm from Sunday, September 17, through Thursday, September 21, and the final five episodes will air nightly at 7 pm from Sunday, September 24, through Thursday, September 28.

In an immersive narrative, Burns and Novick tell the epic story of the Vietnam War as it has never before been told on film. The Vietnam War features testimony from nearly 80 witnesses, including many Americans who fought in the war and others who opposed it, as well as Vietnamese combatants and civilians from both the winning and losing sides.

“The Vietnam War was a decade of agony that took the lives of more than 58,000 Americans,” Burns said. “Not since the Civil War have we as a country been so torn apart. There wasn’t an American alive then who wasn’t affected in some way—from those who fought and sacrificed in the war, to families of service members and POWs, to those who protested the war in open conflict with their government and fellow citizens. More than 40 years after it ended, we can’t forget Vietnam, (continued on page 2)”

"We can't forget Vietnam,

(continued from page 1) and we are still arguing about why it went wrong, who was to blame, and whether it was all worth it."

"We are all searching for some meaning in this terrible tragedy. Ken and I have tried to shed new light on the war by looking at it from the bottom up, the top down and from all sides," Novick said. "In addition to dozens of Americans who shared their stories, we interviewed many Vietnamese on both the winning and losing sides, and were surprised to learn that the war remains as painful and unresolved for them as it is for us. Within this almost incomprehensibly destructive event, we discovered profound, universal human truths, as well as uncanny resonances with recent events."

Ten years in the making, the series brings the war and the chaotic epoch it encompassed viscerally to life. Written by Geoffrey C. Ward, produced by Sarah Botstein, Novick, and Burns, it includes rarely seen, digitally re-mastered archival footage from sources around the globe, photographs taken by some of the most celebrated photojournalists of the 20th century, historic television broadcasts, evocative home movies, and revelatory audio recordings from inside the Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon administrations.

The Vietnam War features new, original music written and recorded by Academy Award-winning composers Trent Reznor and Atticus Ross. The film also features new music arranged and performed by Additional music in the film was composed by David Cieri and Doug Wamble, both of whom are longtime collaborators with Florentine Films.

The series also features more than 120 popular songs that define the era, including tracks from The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, Bob Dylan, Jimi Hendrix, Simon & Garfunkel, Janis Joplin, Ben E. King, Phil Ochs, Donovan, Johnny Cash, Barry McGuire, Buffalo Springfield, The Byrds, Otis Redding, Santana, Joni

Mitchell, Nina Simone, The Temptations, Booker T. and the M.G.s, Pete Seeger, and more.

“Ever since The Civil War, Ken and Lynn have been behind some of the most important documentary films ever shown on television, films that have in fact made television history and created national conversations around who we are as Americans,” said Beth Hoppe, chief programming executive and general manager, General Audience Programming, PBS. “The Vietnam War stands out as an unmatched documentary achievement about one of the most transformative periods in modern American history.”

The end of Cassini

For more than a decade, the Cassini space probe has been sending dazzling images of Saturn's breathtaking rings and mysterious moons. Now, join NOVA in Death Dive to Saturn at 8 pm Wednesday, September 13 for the suspenseful ride during Cassini's final hours as it dives into Saturn's atmosphere.

Yearn for freedom

Anita, Rita, Ricardo, and Andrés have attended a school for children with Down syndrome for 40 years. But after all this time, they are starting to tire of this safe, familiar environment. Now over 45 years old, they yearn for freedom on a more personal level. However, In spite of the training they receive on becoming "responsible adults," all four of them remain dependent on others to make decisions for them, much to their frustration. Director Maite Alberdi draws us into the microcosm of these four in The Grown Ups. The POV film airs at 9 pm Monday, September 4.

The idea that changed the world

On October 31st, 1517, a penniless monk named Martin Luther posted his now-famous diatribe denouncing the corruption of the medieval world's largest and most powerful institution.

Martin Luther at 7 pm Tuesday, September 12, chronicles the real life story of the seismic upheaval that rocked the western world in the early 1500s. Against all odds, a lonely outcast stood up to the world's dominant superpower—the Catholic Church—and won.

Narrated by Hugh Bonneville (Downton Abbey) and starring Padraic Delaney (The Tudors), this docudrama uses full-scale dramatizations to tell a great adventure story that does not shy away from the darker side of Martin Luther's story.

Civilized social media debate

Carlos Watson, Emmy® Award-winning journalist and Editor in Chief of OZY.com, will host a new, prime-time, cross-platform debate program, Third Rail with OZY. This seven-part series will begin at 7:30 pm Friday, September 8.

Watson will frame each week's half-hour show around a single, provocative question. Expert and celebrity guests will debate it in the studio each Friday, moderated by Watson, and informed by the weeklong social media conversation leading up to it. The series' underlying query in this contentious age is: can dialogue—informed by data—alter people's points of view?

A 5-year legal battle

Steve James, acclaimed filmmaker, has once again collaborated with Frontline to turn his lens on the Sungs, a Chinese American family whose Abacus Federal Savings Bank was the only US bank indicted for mortgage fraud related to the 2008 financial crisis.

Abacus: Small Enough to Jail airs at 9 pm Tuesday, September 12. The film examines the case against the bank, hearing from prosecutors, jurors, defense lawyers, and the bank's founder, Thomas Sung, his wife Hwei Lin, and their daughters, whom James filmed over a year as they fought to clear their names.

Till death do they part

"100-year old lovebirds" Byong-man Jo and Gye-yeul Kang, have been inseparable companions for the past 76 years. Living in their small home by the river, they wear traditional Korean clothes, go shopping at the local market, have picnics with neighbors, and enjoy dance parties. Every night they go to sleep holding each other's hands. Observing this fragile couple for 15 months, director Mo-Young Jin acts as a fly-on-the-wall, capturing their twilight days with tender moments that reveal simple acts of affection—from a good-natured leaf fight to a gentle caress of the cheek. At 9 pm Monday, September 11, POV presents My Love, Don't Cross That River, an unforgettable story of true love that transcends both generations and cultures.

American Masters:
Richard Linklater—Dream is Destiny provides an unconventional look at the fiercely independent style of filmmaking that emerged out of Austin, Texas, in the late 1980s and 1990s with Richard Linklater as its poster boy.

Airing at 8 pm Friday, September 1, the film is co-directed by Karen Bernstein and Louis Black (left). “This film is not just about Richard Linklater and his films but the spirit and need of independent filmmakers and films, emphatically saying to all: just do it! Go and make your film!” said Black.

AMERICAN MASTERS

People worldwide have seen the Disney animated classic Bambi and been deeply moved by it, but few can tell you the name of the artist behind the film. Even fewer are aware of this pioneering artist’s impact on American art and popular culture. Until his death at the age of 106, Tyrus Wong was America’s oldest living Chinese American artist and one of the last remaining artists from the golden age of Disney animation.

American Masters: Tyrus Wong at 8 pm Friday, September 8, corrects a historical wrong by spotlighting this seminal, but heretofore under-credited, figure.

Preview The Vietnam War on September 14

At 6:30 pm on Thursday, September 14, WILL-TV and the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum present a preview of the upcoming PBS series The Vietnam War by Ken Burns and Lynn Novick. Then join us for an interactive panel of stories from Illinois residents who fought in the war, those who opposed it, and a Vietnamese combatant.

The event will be moderated by Mark Depue, oral historian at the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum.

“The Vietnam War, in my view, was the seminal event of the late 20th century, an experience that traumatized many of us, and not just those who served. It’s important that we now, from the vantage point of fifty years, take a fresh look at that era. Maybe we can even find a bit of wisdom out of the passions of that age,” said DePue.

To reserve your seats, call 217-558-8844 or visit www.PresidentLincoln.Illinois.gov and click “Special Event Reservations.”

WILL showcases Vietnam: Soldiers’ Stories, a local documentary from 2000

At 8 pm Friday, September 15, watch the WILL documentary Vietnam: Soldiers’ Stories. Produced by Tim Hartin, along with co-producers David Inge and Carol Forsythe, the film sets out to discover how veterans looked back on their Vietnam experiences and how the veterans thought those experiences had shaped who they are today.

Powerful stories told by the veterans are woven with combat footage, some of it shot by John Laemmar, an Evanston, Ill., veteran who purchased an Argus Super 8 movie camera in Vietnam.

In the film, the veterans describe the great sadness they still feel because so many comrades died. They talk about the bonds forged with fellow soldiers, the shock of seeing long-hair war protestors when they came home, and their survivor’s guilt.

This powerful, hour-long film is an excellent local companion to the Burns’ documentary.

The Vietnam War Episode Guide

Part One: Déjà Vu

7 pm and 8:30 pm
Sunday, September 17

With the Cold War intensifying, Vietnam is divided in two at Geneva. Communists in the north aim to reunify the country, while America supports Ngo Dinh Diem's untested regime in the south.

Part Two: Riding the Tiger

7 pm and 8:30 pm
Monday, September 18

President Kennedy inspires idealistic young Americans to serve their country and wrestles with how deeply to get involved in South Vietnam.

Part Three: The River Styx

7 pm and 9 pm
Tuesday, September 19

Fearing Saigon's collapse to Ho Chi Minh, President Johnson escalates America's military commitment, authorizing sustained bombing of the north and deploying ground troops in the south.

Part Four: Resolve

7 pm and 9 pm
Wednesday, September 20

Defying American airpower, North Vietnamese troops and matériel stream down the Ho Chi Minh Trail into the south, while Saigon struggles to "pacify the countryside." Antiwar movement builds back home as soldiers discover this war is nothing like their fathers'.

Part Five: This is What We Do

7 pm and 8:30 pm
Thursday, September 21

American casualties and enemy body counts mount as Marines face deadly North Vietnamese ambushes and Army units chase an elusive enemy in the central highlands. The Johnson Administration reassures the American public that victory is in sight while antiwar demonstrations occur outside the Pentagon.

Part Six: Things Fall Apart

7 pm and 8:30 pm

Sunday, September 24

On the eve of the Tet holiday, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces launch surprise attacks on cities and military bases throughout the south, suffering devastating losses but casting grave doubt on Johnson's promise that there is "light at the end of the tunnel."

Part Seven: The Veneer of Civilization

7 pm and 9 pm

Monday, September 25

Public support for the war declines, and American men of draft age face difficult decisions and wrenching moral choices. Richard Nixon wins the presidency, promising law and order at home and peace overseas.

Part Eight: The History of the World

7 pm and 9 pm

Tuesday, September 26

With morale plummeting in Vietnam, President Nixon begins withdrawing American troops. As news breaks of an unthinkable massacre committed by American soldiers, the public debates the rectitude of the war.

Part Nine: A Disrespectful Loyalty

7 pm and 9 pm

Wednesday, September 27

After being re-elected in a landslide, Nixon announces Hanoi has agreed to a peace deal. American prisoners of war finally come home, but to a bitterly divided country.

Part Ten: The Weight of Memory

7 pm and 9 pm

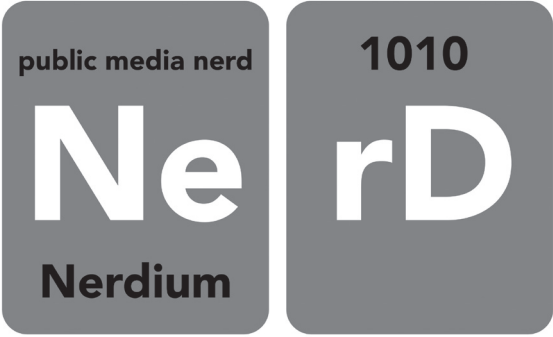

Thursday, September 28

The Watergate scandal rivets Americans' attention and forces President Nixon to resign, and hundreds of thousands of North Vietnamese troops pour into the south, rapidly sending Saigon into chaos and collapse. For the next 40 years, Americans and Vietnamese from all sides search for healing and reconciliation.

Mid-American Gardener goes to the market

Panel members from Mid-American Gardener gathered under the Illinois Public Media tent for a “Gardening Road-show” at Urbana’s Market on July 29. Many guests brought photos or specific plants with their gardening questions to get on-the-spot answers.

If you have questions about your own garden, join us at Urbana’s Market at the Square from 9-11 am on Saturday, September 30, located in the Lincoln Square parking lot.

▲ Jim Appleby, Jennifer Nelson, Kay Carnes, and Rusty Maulding, regular panelists for Mid-American Gardener, assist a guest with her plant questions.
